

U. S. GETS WARNING FROM REBELS

MAY WED PRINCE
Oil Heiress Marian Snowden, who has New York society agog over the quick termination of her marriage to Louis F. Reed Jr., noted sportsman, is seen frequently with her first husband, Prince Rospiogliosi, and rumor has it she will remarry him.

PRESIDENT TO FISH SATURDAY

ABOARD U. S. S. CHESTER, AT SEA, Nov. 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt was in high spirits today in anticipation of getting in a day of fishing in tropical waters tomorrow during the refueling stop at Trinidad.

Enjoying Cruise
The chief executive is enjoying his cruise to South America, participating in life aboard the U. S. S. Indianapolis fully, before he reaches the arduous social and political tasks at Buenos Aires where he will open the Pan-American Peace conference December 1.

All hands changed into summer clothing as the cruiser and the destroyer Chester conveying the Indianapolis moved into ever warmer weather on the edge of the Caribbean sea.

Governor in Invitation
As the Indianapolis steamed past the Virgin Islands, Gov. Lawrence W. Cramer sent a radio to President Roosevelt giving him the greetings and salutations of the inhabitants and an invitation to call on his return trip.

Plans were under way on the cruiser for initiation of the president in typical navy fashion when the equator is crossed—his first crossing of this mythical line at the earth's girdle. He and the other neophytes will be called upon to pay homage to King Neptune during the traditional fun-making ceremonies.

GRANGE MEMBERS END CONVENTION

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Prepared to pursue a program of "economic justice" for the American agriculturist, delegates to the 79th convention of the national grange from 35 states ended their nine-day session today.

The farm program was termed by National Master Louis J. Taber of Columbus as "one of the most far-sighted and constructive programs ever adopted by a grange convention."

As evidence of a more "liberal" outlook, delegates pointed to resolutions favoring the principle of crop insurance and urging that the plan be tried on a limited scale; commending a "sound" soil conservation program; and favoring taxation of all income sources including federal and state salaries and interest on bonds now tax exempt.

Alaska, Hawaii Governors In Appeal

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO TAKE ACTION

Federal Judge Nullifies Order To U. S. Marshal On Banana Cargo

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Refused army transports, the department of interior today turned to the navy in an effort to ship emergency food supplies to Hawaii where citizens are facing a food shortage because of the maritime strike. Secretary Swanson asked for time to check the positions of the navy's Pacific coast ships.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Food shortages in Hawaii and Alaska, caused by strangulation of Pacific coast shipping, became a matter of official alarm in the two territories today as the maritime strike remained deadlocked and added more idle ships to the growing list.

Precarious Situation
Gov. Joseph B. Poindexter of Hawaii announced he had appealed to the department of the interior to relieve a "precarious" food situation. He said rice and potatoes, staple foods in the islands, dairy products are nearly exhausted, and flour and butter will not last longer than the second week of December.

Gov. John W. Troy of Alaska likewise appealed to the department of the interior, asking that emergency government ship service to the territory be started "the soonest possible" because many Alaska communities reported critical food shortages.

The northeast joint strike committee adjourned a meeting without taking any action on a proposal that maritime workers man ships operating to Alaska. A committee spokesman said no decision will be made until Col. O. F. Ohlson, manager of the Alaska railroad, arrives at Seattle tonight. Ohlson is authorized to charter ships to carry food to Alaska.

In Los Angeles one potentially dangerous phase of the strike was removed when Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick nullified an order to U. S. Marshal Robert Clark directing him to remove 4216 stems of bananas from the strike-locked liner California.

Marshal Feared Bloodshed
The order removed the threat of federal court intervention which strikers charged "put the government into the strikebreaking business." Clark previously had refused to carry out the order after predictions of "bloodshed" were made.

Meantime a survey showed that 213 ships now are tied up in ports affected by the strike. Last week approximately 175 were idle. At present there are 66 at San Pedro, 68 at San Francisco, 25 at Portland, 33 at Seattle, seven at Vancouver, B. C., and eight at Honolulu.

1000 MISSING AS DAM BREAKS

TOKYO, Nov. 20.—(UP)— The Akita power dam at the village of Osarawasa in northern Japan broke with a roar today, flooding the countryside and killing 250 persons, the railway ministry announced officially. One thousand were reported missing.

The dam gave way before rising water due to excessive rains. The rushing torrent swept away 300 houses inhabited by 1300 miners, many of whom were feared drowned.

The dam is owned by the Mitsubishi Copper company, employer of the miners.

THOMPSON WOOD IN SEMI FINALS

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa., and Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., two of the longest hitters in the game, gained the semi-final round of the 19th annual P. G. A. golf tournament today with victories over Harold McSpadden of Winchester, Mass., and Tony Manero of Greensboro, N. C., the national open champion.

AMBASSADOR

CELESTY UNION PLANS STRIKE

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—A strike of 3,500 celery workers will be called here "as soon as the men are contacted," leaders of the Agricultural Workers' Union announced today.

Seek More Pay
The strike call, directed against growers of 8,000 acres of celery in the San Joaquin river delta region, will back up the union's demands for a wage scale of from 35 to 40 cents an hour; overtime pay and an eight hour day.

The strike originally was scheduled to start yesterday afternoon but was delayed when the union called another meeting to consider final action.

Leaders said negotiations had been closed with employers operating two-thirds of the total celery-grown land.

Delta Land Guarded
Armand Maurer, of John C. Maurer and sons, whose firm hires 500 workers, said an employers' organization had placed 60 armed guards on their land throughout the delta "to keep union agitators out."

The celery crop in this area brings annually about $2,000,000. A new pro-rate period opened today, with 150 carloads of celery scheduled to move during the next five days.

MYSTERY DEEPENS IN RUSSELL DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Mystery deepened today around the death of Reid Russell, 23-year-old automobile salesman, whose body was found in a garden swing at the estate of Governor Morris, mystery story writer.

An autopsy surgeon who examined the exhumed body complicated the maze of baffling questions with his report that the wound through the head was made by a .32 caliber gun—the same bore as the rusty gun found in the dead man's hand and had not been fired in more than a year.

A detective's revelation that Russell told him a few days before his body was found September 25 that he was offered a job with an Oriental gun-running gang, added to the confusion.

THE REGISTER'S "POEMS OF PROFIT"

Mothers In Baby Derby Win Victory

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Justice W. E. Middleton today upheld validity of the baby race clause in the will of Charles Vance Millar, which started Toronto's 10-year $500,000 maternity marathon.

One Eliminated
Justice Middleton also ruled that the fortune could go only to the winning mother, or mothers, of legitimate children. His decision eliminated one of the seven mothers now apparently tied for leadership with nine children each, Mrs. Pauline Mae Clark, who has admitted the youngest five of her children were not fathered by her husband.

The justice said he would reserve judgment on the method by which the winning mother, or mothers, should be determined.

Relatives Eliminated
Justice Middleton's ruling eliminates all of Millar's relatives, 13 of whom sought to break the will, from receiving any part of the fortune.

MILK STRIKE IN NORTH SETTLED

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Dairy operators made peace with striking union employees today and Oakland and Berkeley city governments went out of the milk business within a few hours after they entered it.

The two San Francisco bay cities distributed milk in the area yesterday after most of the dairy plants closed down in a dispute over unionizing of milkers on farms where they obtained their supplies.

Shortly after the cities commandeered the milk supplies, however, the Alameda County Milk Dealers' association and the Alameda Central Labor council, acting on behalf of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union and the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, announced a settlement of the dispute.

The agreement stipulates the dealers will not oppose directly unionization activities of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union and the union workers agreed to give a 30-day advance notice of intentions to picket any dairy they consider "unfair."

CHINESE TROOPS STAGE UPRISING

TIENTSIN, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Four hundred East Hopei peace preservation corps troops mutinied tonight at Wall, near Tangshan, disrupting traffic on the Peiping-Tientsin railway.

The railway station and other buildings were occupied and communications cut.

Other peace preservation forces were dispatched from Tangshan to Wall. Later reports indicated fighting had started.

The exact significance of the uprising was not clear, but it was believed likely to prove another aggravation in the touchy relations between the Chinese and Japanese in North China.

(The peace preservation troops are Chinese assigned to maintain order in the demilitarized zone between Peiping and the Great Wall, established by the Tangku truce.)

EX-HEAD OF TRADE BODY GIVEN POST

Wealthy Socialite Named To Office Vacated By William Bullitt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Joseph E. Davies, wealthy socialite and former head of the Federal trade commission, today was appointed ambassador to Soviet Russia.

Davies, a staunch supporter of Mr. Roosevelt in the presidential campaign and husband of the former Marjorie Post Hutton, heiress of breakfast food millions, had been rumored for the position for some time.

Announcement Withheld
President Roosevelt signed Davies' appointment as ambassador before he left for Buenos Aires on Wednesday but the announcement was withheld pending receipt of the soviet government's assurances that Davies would be persona grata as American ambassador.

The Moscow post has been vacant for several months. It was formerly held by William Bullitt, who was recalled from Moscow to take the ambassadorship to France, vacated by resignation of the late Jesse J. Strauss.

Contributed $15,000
In addition to speaking in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt's re-election.

KING AND WALLIE PLAN YULE PARTY

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—King Edward has decided to spend Christmas with his mother, Queen Mary, and hold a second, belated Christmas party of his own with Mrs. Wallis Simpson and others as guests, it was said today in reliable quarters.

Believing that his duty lay with his widowed mother, it was said, the king decided definitely to spend Christmas day and "boxing" day—December 26, also a holiday in Great Britain—with her at Sandringham.

He intends to leave Sandringham Sunday, December 27, it was said, and go at once to his country home at Fort Belvedere, near London, there to celebrate his own Christmas festival at a party Monday, with Mrs. Simpson among his little party of guests.

COMPLETE SALE OF ST. LOUIS BROWNS

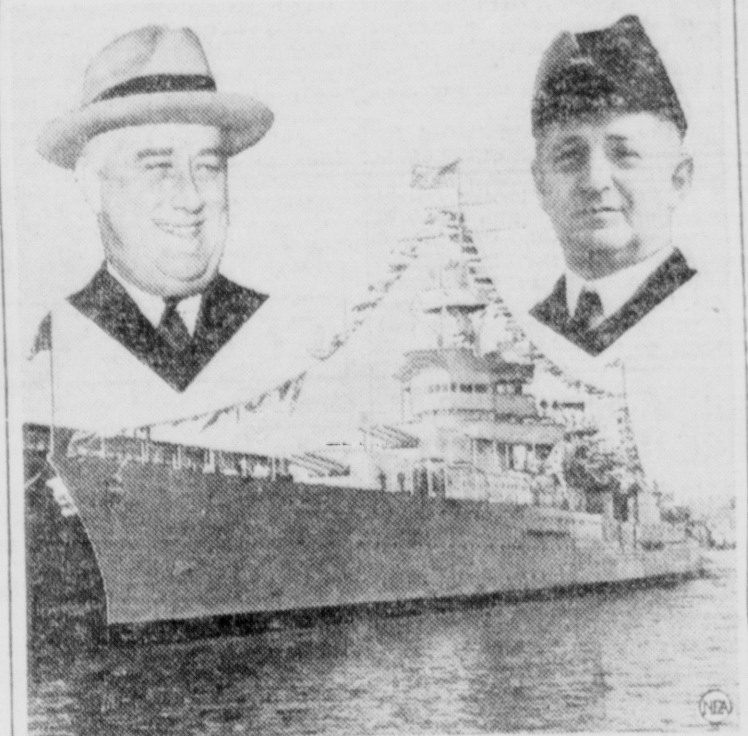

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—(UP)— Sale of the American league Browns to a syndicate of St. Louis business men headed by Donald L. Barnes, president of the $5,000,000 American Investment company, was completed today when contracts were signed by Barnes, his associates, and representatives of the estate of the late Phil Ball.

A certified check for $100,000 accompanied transfer of papers. It was understood $225,000 additional would be paid on or before December 1.

CRUISER SPEEDING SOUTH

The U. S. cruiser Indianapolis won the honor of carrying President Roosevelt from Charleston, S. C., to Buenos Aires, Argentina, for the December 1 opening ceremonies of the Pan-American peace conference. The Indianapolis, in charge of Capt. Henry K. Hewitt, right, is scheduled for two stops en route, one at Trinidad, tomorrow, for fuel, another at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where a reception is planned for the president. President Roosevelt shows his "good neighbor" smile, expressing the feeling expected to prevail at the parley of 21 American republics.

rites Held For State Prison FAMOUS SINGER SITE SELECTED

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Funeral services for Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted singer and "mother of the A. E. F.," were held in the American Legion hall here today in a huge arched room bedecked with the flags of the allied nations and thousands of floral tributes.

Sincerity Demonstrated
Sincerity of the 750 persons who packed the hall and other hundreds in adjoining streets was demonstrated in a most forceful manner when the final sound of taps at the end of the service sent almost every man and woman present into sobs.

Taps were played by Joe Collins, an American Legion member who was a sergeant bugler in France during the World War.

Guard of Legionnaires
The military played an important part in the tribute to the aged singer, who during the World War had sons in both the German and American armies. A guard of six Legionnaires, which was changed every 10 minutes during the morning, stood at attention at the diva's peach-colored casket until the body was removed from the hall for transportation to San Diego, Cal., where burial will be made.

A soldier, clad in a soiled regulation uniform of a private in the A. E. F., created a sensation when he limped up the aisle leading to the coffin, brought himself to attention, saluted and walked out.

Veteran in Tears
He was found sobbing bitterly against the Legion building. The man said he was Al Stevens, who served with the 101st Engineers. He wore a Croix de Guerre with palms on his breast.

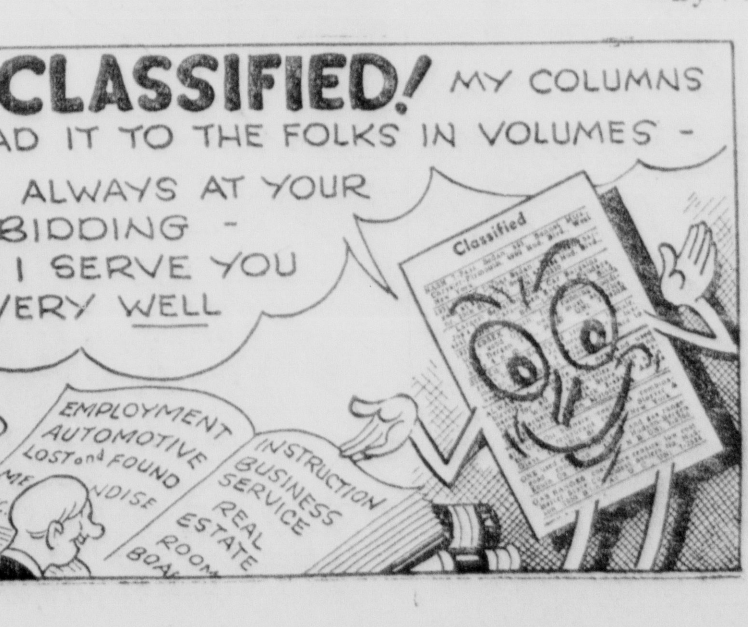

"I just got here a little while ago," said Stevens. "I hitch-hiked from Arlington, Cal., 40 miles away. Mme. Schumann-Heink once sang to me when I lay wounded in a hospital. She begged me to get well and I did. Please excuse my weeping. I haven't cried in my life except when my mother died."

70-FOOT FISHING BOAT DESTROYED

WILMINGTON, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—A mysterious explosion early today destroyed the 70-foot fishing boat Sea Wolf as it was tied up to a dock here.

The explosion was heard for miles and brought several companies of police and firemen to the berth where the ship was resting.

The ship was a total loss as firemen were unable to halt the blaze. The Sea Wolf was valued at around $5,000. It was registered as being owned by Capt. H. M. Endo.

INSURGENTS PREPARE TO ATTACK PORT

Nationalist Forces Seek To Stop All Traffic With Barcelona

BULLETIN
LONDON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Great Britain has decided to challenge a Spanish Nationalist threat to blockade Barcelona and will resist any attempt to search or seize its ships on the high seas, it was said authoritatively today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—The United States received indirect warning today from the Spanish Nationalist government to keep all American naval and commercial vessels out of the port of Barcelona, which is under threat of bombardment by General Franco's forces.

Acting Secretary of State R. Walton Moore announced receipt of the warning, which came in a round about way through Lisbon and the American consulate at Seville.

Consul Cabled
Moore revealed the state department, upon information that some such warning had been given by the Franco forces to the British government, cabled the American consul in Seville asking him whether he had received such information.

The consul replied that General Alvaro de Llanos, lieutenant of General Franco, had given him a telegram received from the Franco representative in Lisbon, advising the Lisbon representative to request the representatives of foreign governments to stop all traffic with Barcelona.

NATIONALIST CRUISER REPORTED OFF BARCELONA
BARCELONA, Nov. 20.—(UP)—A Nationalist cruiser was reported off the coast today in token of the formal blockade of Barcelona had commenced.

It was believed the cruiser already had sunk one Loyalist.

GREEN ATTACKS DICTATORSHIP

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 20.—(UP)—President William Green led the American Federation of Labor and representatives of British and Canadian workers today in a violent denunciation of dictatorship and a summons to the world's working class to "stand like the rock of Gibraltar" in defense of democracy.

Assault Autocrat
"The church may fail, the chambers of commerce may be impotent and the civic leaders may lack the power to deal with the tyranny of dictatorial rule," Green shouted to the federation in assailing the regime of "the autocrat in Germany."

"But the trade union movement—at which dictators strike first—has the strength to prevent the rise of dictatorship in any form at any time and any place."

Stand Against War
"We must take our lesson from what has happened and develop trade unionism to stand like the rock of Gibraltar against every dictator. And I say to our British brothers, we stand with you against war."

"We are against it and in my opinion it is going to be impossible to involve the people of the United States in another European war."

IMPEACHMENT OF CRAIG IS URGED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Impeachment action against Appellate Judge Gavin Craig should be one of the first orders of business when the legislature convenes here in January, Assemblyman Charles Hunt, Los Angeles, said today.

Judge Craig now is in the county jail at Ventura, starting a year's sentence on a federal charge of conspiring to obstruct justice in the Italo Petroleum case.

Hunt, visiting the capital with Assemblyman Patrick J. McMurphy, San Francisco, said he would again introduce his 70-car freight train bill which passed the legislature two years ago and was vetoed by Gov. Frank P. Merriam. He also will exempt from the state's tax food served in restaurants.

CYCLE RIDER KILLED BY CAR UNIDENTIFIED

A pauper's grave awaits the unidentified man who was riding a girl's bicycle the evening of November 9 near Serra when a car operated by Dewey Killen, Long Beach Marine, struck him down, unless cooperation of citizens throughout California succeeds in locating relatives. It was prophesied today by Officer Earl Abbey, Deputy Coroner Bert Castelli and Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel, head of the sheriff's identification bureau, who asked that any information which might lead to the man's identity, be forwarded immediately either to the coroner or sheriff.

As the result of the man's death, Killen was held to answer to superior court on a negligent homicide charge. His wife was jailed for 30 days on a drunk charge. Here is a complete description of the unidentified man, who was riding a girl's bicycle, blue with white stripe. Five feet five inches tall; weight 120 to 130 pounds; 30 to 35 years old; light brown hair, slightly wavy; blue eyes; medium build and medium complexion. On the inside of his right forearm is tattooed a woman's head, with long, black hair. He wore at time of the accident, two pairs of trousers, grey check and blue; brown striped shirt; brown wool zipper sweater; blue checked shorts and white cotton undershirt; grey socks and black shoes.

The body is being held at Divil funeral chapel, San Clemente, 15 days more, pending possible identification. Then, according to officials—after a 30-day period is ended—it will be necessary to bury the man in a pauper's grave.

TOMATO GROWERS ORGANIZE LEAGUE

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Leading canning tomato growers, who met in an all day session here yesterday, announced today that plans were completed for the formation of the California Canning Tomato Growers' League.

The immediate objective of the league will be to establish prices for the 1937 crop and to make provisions to see that canners pay the price demanded or receive no tomatoes, they said.

The executive council of the new league announced it would make a survey of all possible and potential market outlets for canning tomatoes, "with the view of affecting arrangements with independent and cooperative canneries, boycotting those canneries, whose policies are set by the Canners' League of California."

The growers are expected to demand a minimum of $15 a ton for canning tomatoes, it was reported.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—President Roosevelt apparently ruffled the complacent nature of staid British financiers by his proposed plan to restrict alien purchases of American securities.

This direct action against the international bankers sort of creates a slight suspicion that F.D.R. may have listened in to some of Father Coughlin's radio programs. It seems evident that the president thinks that only recognized American animals should roam the game preserves of Wall Street.

Yes sir! He wants no John Bulls among the bears and lambs. Of course, it's only natural that our British cousins are going to be disappointed if they can't acquire the good American stock they want. Even the king has a standing order in for spring delivery—Simpson, Preferred.

FLAMES DESTROY $1,000,000 PIER

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—(UP)—The Moore and McCormack Steamship company, one of the targets of striking insurance seamen, denied today that a million dollar pier destroyed by fire in Philadelphia last night was in anyway connected with the strike.

The fire raged uncontrolled for several hours. Pickets of the striking seamen aided police and firemen in pushing 10 loaded freight cars out of danger. The crews of two docked ships—the Commercial Alabama and the Minnesota—quickly took them to mid-stream of the Delaware river. Their escape was so close that paint was blistered on the sides of both.

OHIO'S MINIMUM WAGE LAW UPHOLD

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Ohio's minimum wage law for women and minors was upheld as constitutional by a three-judge federal court here today.

The decision permits the state to continue enforcement of wage regulations, but the victory for the state may be only temporary, as the United States supreme court, in a 5 to 4 decision last June, invalidated a New York law that was practically identical with the Ohio statute.

The supreme court will have the last word in the Ohio case, as an appeal is to be taken.

DAVIES GIVEN MOSCOW POST

Davies gave $15,000 to the Democratic National committee.

He was Democratic National Committee member from Wisconsin for several years, and in 1912 was chairman of the western headquarters of the party's presidential campaign.

He was U. S. Commissioner of Corporations from 1913 to 1915, and later became chairman of the Federal Trade commission, resigning that position in 1918 to become a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Wedding Social Event
Davies' marriage to the former Mrs. Edward F. Hutton was an event in New York and Washington social circles in 1915. The couple was married before a small group of intimate friends at one of the most elaborate and lavish ceremonies in recent bluebook social annals.

Davies acted as counsel for the Mexican government in 1920 and later acted in a similar capacity for the government of Peru in the Tacna-Arica dispute, and for the government of Santo Domingo. He was attorney for taxpayers in the "Ford stock valuation" tax case.

Davies was born in 1876 in Watertown, Wis. He received his law training at the University of Wisconsin.

STORE IN DIVIDEND

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Zion's Co-operative Mercantile institute, operated by Mormons and one of the largest stores of its kind in the inter-mountain west, yesterday announced dividend and bonus payments totalling over $155,000.

Directors declared a special dividend of 3 1/2 per cent, or $1.75 per share on outstanding stock. This payment will total over $105,000.

Court Notes

Mrs. Pauline Poteet won a court order from Superior Judge James L. Allen late yesterday, requiring her husband, Bill Poteet, of Huntington Park to pay $45 per month for support of his wife and two children. His cross complaint for a divorce was denied. He also was ordered to pay $150 attorney fees for his wife.

R. D. Goetz has filed suit in superior court against Alice McClintock and others, to quiet title to certain Santa Ana property.

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Ina D. Darch today brought suit in superior court for a divorce from Walter C. Darch. They married in Ontario October 29, 1932, and separated last October 23.

G. W. E. Taylor has petitioned superior court to compromise the claim of his son, Kyle, 12, against Earl Rankin Jr., for bruises and scratches the boy received when his bicycle was struck by Rankin's car at Third and Lacy streets, November 7. A settlement of $75 has been offered, with $25 additional for attorney fees.

Police News

Parents of a 15-year-old San Marcos girl, apprehended here as she was running away from home, promised they would come here at once to take her home. The girl, reported by San Diego police as missing, was found by Officers Harry Prichard and Roy Hartley at Third and Main, Wednesday night.

M. C. Davis, 512-B East Walnut, thought someone had entered his home in his absence last night, according to city police, but when Officers F. L. Grouard and Chet Gross made a check-up, they could find neither prowler nor signs showing something had been stolen.

City police were unable to locate a prowler reported present last night in the back yard of the J. A. Fowler home, 2512 Valencia street. A prowler at 1802 Spurgeon reported early today by G. M. Meisner, 1800 Spurgeon, had fled when Officers C. V. Adams and Burnette Lane investigated.

When Roy A. Moore Jr., Riverside, brought his car to a local garage last evening to have smashed fender and running board fixed, Officer W. E. B. Sherwood questioned him. He explained another car sidwiped his while he was driving between San Clemente and Laguna Beach but no one was injured.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Stocks were highly irregular through today's session as were bonds, the latter featured by a decline in U. S. government issues after a prolonged rise to record high territory.

Business continued to move ahead and numerous corporations announced increased or extra dividends together with increased wages and bonus payments. Automobile production as announced by Cram's rose to 110,160 against 104,245 last week and 100,125 in the 1935 week.

Retail trade, according to Dun and Bradstreet, was 3 to 10 per cent over week ago and 15 to 22 per cent over 1935, while wholesale trade was 18 to 20 per cent better than the 1935 week.

Car loadings rose 25,354 cars to 784,672 for the week ended last Saturday. The Association of American Railroads announced. The increase was contra seasonal and hence had a steady influence on the railroad shares which were quiet.

Numerous stocks made gains. Utilities turned in the best groups and showed rallying tendencies as did steel, although gains were small. Many speculators were quiet.

Alcohol and liquor issues were strong. American Commercial Alcohol made a new high of 35 1/2. Industrial Alcohol also was strong. National Distillers and Schenley were favorites in the liquor section.

REBELS WARN U. S. ON SHIPS

Americans Given Bonds
American consular authorities, foreseeing a tense situation, issued distinctive arm bands to all American citizens and Consul Charles B. Perkins visited President Louis Companys, of the semi-autonomous Catalanian government, seeking to safeguard United States citizens.

The blockading cruiser was believed to be the Canarias, a modern ship of 16,000 tons with eight 8-inch guns.

Fearing the city might be attacked at any time, authorities ordered a complete blackout of light last night.

PLAN TO REMOVE WOMEN AND CHILDREN
MADRID, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Government leaders, horrified by the slaughter caused by Nationalist bombing airplanes, considered a plan today for evacuation of every woman and child from the capital.

It was proposed to leave none but men in the city for a fight to the death against the Nationalists in which quarter would neither be given nor asked.

Gigantic Task
It was admitted the task was a gigantic one, in a city whose people number nearly 1,500,000.

But to the threat that thousands of women and children might be torn to pieces by bombs was added the threat of starvation.

The city's food supply is perilously low. Restaurants began hanging out signs last night "No Food Left."

The new Loyalist air fleet took to the air again at dawn to watch for Nationalist raiding planes. During a long tense night two lone searchlights swept the sky above an otherwise black city. No Nationalist planes appeared. Even the machine guns along the south and southwest sides of the city were silent until dawn.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Two marine corps fliers were killed today when their plane crashed on a farm near Friendship, Maryland.

The fliers were: Lieut. Cleo R. Keen, 28, Moberly, Mo., and Sgt. Frank P. Egan, 35, Dorchester, Mass.

The plane in which the fliers were killed was a Marine corps bombing plane. Cause of the crash was not determined immediately.

NEW ANAHEIM HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATED AT CEREMONIES

School and construction officials fittingly dedicated Anaheim's new half million dollar high school yesterday when approximately 800 people assembled in the attractive new auditorium to hear the speakers.

On the stage were state construction leaders as well as heads of community organizations supporting the gigantic program and school trustees and administrators who gave of their time and effort unstintingly in effecting the completion of the program.

"Anaheim has a high school plant second to none of the many PWA constructed projects in Southern California," Harry K. Boone, engineer inspector, said in speaking at the cornerstone ceremonies at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. This sense was voiced by other speakers last night.

Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, termed it an outstanding monument in the great reconstruction program which followed the earthquake. J. T. Stafford, state division of architecture, spoke of the project as one of the few which offered no difficulties in reconciling rigid state and federal requirements with local financing and plans, due largely to the work of A. H. Pibel, the school district's representative.

Appreciation of the work of J. A. Clayes, principal, and members of the board of trustees as well as the P. T. A., city council, and many other groups was expressed by nearly every speaker. Some of these reviewed briefly the period since the earthquake on March 10, 1933, and the miracle that saw no one injured when a second earthquake interrupted a program at the old auditorium.

An entertaining feature on the program was the introduction of C. P. Evans, the first principal of Anaheim high school, serving in 1918.

Mr. Evans, who was born with the city, in 1857, and has been a teacher for 61 years, the oldest in the state, recalled the beginnings of the high school.

"We had to send our children away from home when they were ready for high school," he said. But when Mr. Darling's two children were old enough, he wanted to keep them home and he started talking.

"Our plans were ready to open school in the two attic rooms at Central school building in September, 1898, when fire broke out in those rooms," the veteran teacher said. "It took two months to repair them and we opened school in November with 25 pupils."

The following year there were 50 pupils and I had to have another assistant. Three teachers looked pretty big to us then."

Mr. Evans named a few of the early pupils, telling "tales out of school" on them. They included Dr. John Boege, Miss Alice Grimshaw, Miss Emma Parker and Joe Carroll.

An anticipated radio broadcast from Washington, D.C., was found impossible at the last minute because of a faulty hookup. Others on the program included members of the board of trustees for which President Henry Ramm was spokesman, Mrs. Robert Marvin, past president, and Mrs. Walter Ross, president of the Anaheim high school P. T. A.; Mayor Charles H. Mann, Alex Curlett, assistant state director PWA; Arthur H. Adams, resident engineer inspector, PWA; and T. C. Kistner, architect.

The Rev. Father C. O'Carroll gave the invocation and the Rev. Thomas H. Walker, the benediction. Music was given by the school orchestra, the Mozart orchestra and the Mozart girls' double quartet.

Distribution of employee registration cards under the Social Security Act will start November 24, according to Postmaster Frank Harwood, who is in charge of the work here.

Establishments where there are employees working, he will send a clerk to make the registrations at one time, providing the employer makes application for this service. In applying for the service, he said, the employee should include in his application for service the day and hour at which time all employees can be interviewed.

He also pointed out that tomorrow is the last date on which employers may file their cards at the post office. After that date the cards will have to be mailed direct to the Social Security Board in Baltimore, Md.

FILM COMPANY SUE
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Paramount Pictures, Inc., today was sued for $350,000 damages by the Maurice Mercantile company, and its president, Joseph Rosenthal, who charged that Paramount had said in a talking news reel that the company sold baking powder "highly contaminated with arsenic."

A native of Purvis, Mo., he had lived in the vicinity of Santa Ana for the past 10 years. In addition to his divorced wife, Mrs. Nora Purvis, he is survived by one son, Orin Purvis, of Long Beach.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m., from the Brown and Wagner chapel for Charles A. Purvis, 67, who died yesterday at the Orange County hospital after a long illness. Interment will be in Santa Ana cemetery.

CAMPAIGN COST REPORT FILED BY DEMOCRATS

Campaign expenditures of the Orange County Democratic Campaign Executive committee during the recent election were filed this morning with County Clerk J. M. Backs. The report was filed by Joe Peterson, secretary of the committee following a meeting of the group held last night in the office of H. C. Legg, chairman. The report revealed that a total of $2659 had been raised for the campaign, of which $250 had been sent to National Democratic headquarters. Another $250 was expended on the barbecue and rally held during the campaign which returned a profit of $190 to the sponsoring group and turned into the campaign fund. After all bills had been paid there was a balance of $2519.77 which is being held in the bank here. The members of the committee in addition to the chairman were James L. Davis, of Santa Ana; D. W. Huston, of Huntington Beach; Harry Bull, of Fullerton; Orion Sisson, of Orange, and Sam Nau.

Medieval Pageantry as King Opens Parliament

Britishers who lined the route of King Edward VIII from Buckingham Palace to the Parliament were disappointed in the absence of customary pageantry due to rain, but the ceremonies at the House of Lords lacked none of the traditional colorfulness. Attended by heralds caparisoned in gaudy medieval costumes, Edward appeared in royal splendor as he presided at the state opening of his first Parliament. He is pictured above being helped in to his cloak by the Duke of Beaufort.

PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN AT S. A. LIBRARY

A Book Week entertainment will be given at the Junior department of the Santa Ana library, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. It is announced by Miss Mary Bowyer, head of the department. The program will be presented through the courtesy of the Visel-Haughton studios. It will include two readings by Marilyn Wilson, a group of piano numbers by Audrey Harrell, reading by Elaine Harlow, a play with music, "Hansel and Gretel," by a group of children and Wanda Marie Goode as reader.

Those taking part in the chorus will be Hollis Gibbs, Phyllis Wetherell, Joanne Hockaday, Mary Katherine Harper and Doris Lorraine Faupel. Miss Ruth Armstrong will direct and she will be assisted by Holly Lash Visel. Miss Margaret Davies is to be accompanist.

Dividing new books into four classes, those for very young boys and girls, for the in between ages, for older boys and for older girls, lists of new books appropriate for each group, were printed and placed in booklets at the Junior library this week. Covers of the booklets are especially attractive and are of bright colors with clever cut-out designs.

Included in the 150 new volumes added to the Junior library this week are, "No-Sit-Hound," by Phil Strong; "Ferdinand," by Munro Leaf; "Winterbound," by Margery Blanco; "Little Girl With Seven Names," by M. L. Hunt and "Betsey's Napoleon," by J. Eaton.

Local Briefs

Tustin American Legion Post No. 227 will hold a turkey shoot Sunday, November 22 at the Tustin Gun club on Lane Road, one-half mile south of Eddie Martin's airport. Prizes of turkeys, geese and ducks will be awarded. Sandwiches and soft drinks will be served on the grounds.

Wind velocity yesterday averaged 11.9 m. p. h., according to records at the Santa Ana Junior college meteorological station. Temperatures ranged from 70 at 6 p. m., Nov. 18 to 88 at 1 p. m. Relative humidity was 15 per cent at 4 p. m.

L. L. Archibald, assistant general agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, in Los Angeles, will be the speaker Monday at the monthly noon meeting of the Orange County Life Underwriters' Association, according to an announcement today by George Failes, president of the group. Fred Rowland will be program chairman.

Y BOYS WILL HOLD SERVICE TUESDAY NIGHT

Boys of the Y. M. C. A. will stage their own Thanksgiving Service on Tuesday evening in the chapel of the First M. E. Church. It was announced today by H. G. Nelson, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of the Y.

Beginning at 7:30, there will be a worship service conducted by the boys, to which the general public is invited. The service is primarily for Y. M. C. A. boys and their families, but all who are interested will be welcome.

Ralph Shallenberger is to preside.

The scripture reading will be by Alfred Rivas, and the responsive reading will be led by Edward Budd.

Special music will include a trumpet trio by George Hyde, Milton Asher and Frank Lindgren, a vocal solo by Sam Campbell and a trumpet solo by George Hyde.

Joseph Frias will take the offering, explaining the purpose for which it is given, and Robert Ketchner will present a reading. The Thanksgiving address will be given by Al Pickhardt, Junior College debater, whose theme will be "Why Be Thankful?"

COUNTY POSTAL WORKERS MEET AT BUENA PARK

Orange County Federal Postal Employees' association members were entertained with a musical program preceding the business session last evening at the Congregational church in Buena Park. Vocal and instrumental numbers were presented by three representatives of the WPA music project of Santa Ana, and trio numbers by Mrs. Lillian Neal, hostess for the evening, Miss Ruth Bastady and Miss Barbara Bastady. Carl Brenner was piano accompanist.

Brief talks were given by George Canfield of Santa Ana, president of the association; W. H. Adams of Newport Beach, Claire Head of Garden Grove, Mrs. Bertha Hilbert of La Habra, and Carl Brenner of Buena Park, all postmasters of their respective towns.

Informal discussion of legislation pertinent to post office activities was held.

The next meeting will be held at Fullerton with notice of time and place to be arranged by future announcement.

Members of the current finance committee of the Woman's club were in charge of the dinner. Table appointments featured a Thanksgiving theme with an arrangement of persimmons and cellophane flowers centering the head table.

CHAMPAGNE WALTZ IS PREVIEWED HERE

Patrons at the Fox Broadway theater last night were treated to one of the best and latest pictures of the year when a "sneak" preview was shown.

The picture was roundly applauded as was the singing of Gladys Swarthout.

The story is that of an American jazz king, Fred MacMurray, and his band, who sweeps into Vienna and turns the staid old Austrian city into a jazz mad frenzy.

Gladys Swarthout as a direct descendant of Johann Strauss and her father hold out against the invasion of jazz but their dance hall devoted entirely to waltzes gradually gives way to the new vogue.

The climax finds Franz Strauss and Fred MacMurray leading their combined waltz and jazz bands in a huge spectacle in New York.

The play is one of those refreshing ones where excellent music and dancing predominate with a copious amount of good clean comedy. Jack Oakie plays the part of the manager of Fred MacMurray and his jazz band and as usual, his comedy lines are good.

"Champagne Waltz" is one of those pictures that should be ranked among the best releases of the year.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARDS ARE URGED TO CONSIDER DANGERS OF SPORTS AT P.-T. A. MEET

School boards of Orange county were urged to give due consideration to the dangers of competitive sports for adolescents, and to find the rulings of the state board on such athletic activity, in a resolution passed at the meeting of the Fourth District Parent-Teacher association, held at the auditorium of the Anaheim Union High school district Thursday.

In discussion of the resolution it was pointed out that this is not an effort to interfere with the sports activity of schools, but merely an effort to get the boards of education to comply with the state rulings on adolescent sports. Nearly 300 attended the meeting, over which Mrs. H. C. Brown presided. Another resolution that marked the close of the session was concerning crime, and urged prompt punishment for criminals, and a discontinuance of throwing slams on crime by publicizing it.

Education Week
In keeping with National Education week, which was in November, the program of the day centered about "Education." and included three speakers, Judge E. J. Milne of the Whittier Institute; James Hoffman Batten and Mrs. Mark Jones, state chairman of school education. Mrs. J. O. Rayne, district chairman of juvenile protection, introduced Judge Milne, who presented a program of instrumental and vocal music. In his discussion of education, Judge Milne said that "The person who knows the cause of juvenile delinquency, and the cure, is a real brain trust," and in a short talk said that after unfurling the life of a boy in his school and providing him with an understanding of life, the problem then becomes one for the community where he is returned, since "society makes the pressures that cause his confusion," he declared.

In his discussion of "Mexican and American Citizenship" Mr. Batten called attention to the fact that whether we assimilate him, and whether he becomes a citizen or not, the Mexican is here to stay, and considering that "the Mexican, born here or south of the border, has an instinctive sense of courtesy, and is responsive to the friendly spirit. It is as true today as when first written by the great Apostle in Corinth that 'love never faileth,'" he concluded, in appealing for a discarding of race mis-understandings.

Considering that Norway and Sweden, the British Empire, and the United States are the only world powers retaining a semblance of democracy, the educational systems must maintain a program to bring all truth to the peoples of this country that those peoples may continue as free people, Mrs. Mark Jones said in her discussion.

Another thing contributing to freedom is equality, she suggested, since "we cannot continue to live when we have extremes of those with too much and those without enough, and in consideration of all problems, democracy is based on faith and fact, and our schools must present these to the students. History must be a study of great trends, not of individual triumphs. And as history truths are presented differently than they were under text books made up to please individuals, so must other educational truths be presented," she said.

Reports Made
Reports of department heads occupied part of the morning. Mrs. W. R. Ward, Anaheim council president, who with members was hostess of the day, introduced J. A. Claves, high school superintendent, and G. A. Gauer, grammar school superintendent, who welcomed the group. Mrs. W. E. Krupp, vice president, responded. Mrs. Robert Sutherland introduced Mr. Batten.

As part of the entertainment a double quartet of the high school music department sang a group of numbers. At the luncheon, Mrs. Verne Esta, Mrs. H. G. Joost, Mrs. Irvine Freer, Mrs. C. E. Wood and Mrs. E. G. Smith presented a skit, and Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Seeds Spizay, presented awards on membership and to other outstanding organizations represented.

Mrs. R. W. Marvin, chairman of life membership, explained that the memberships are student loan for education.

Mrs. W. T. Kirven of Garden Grove, a state chairman, urged each association to appoint a health chairman.

Mrs. Ruby Goodwin of Fullerton read a short article she had written, urging that "color and race be considered a distinction rather than a handicap or barrier."

The next district meeting will be a president's conference at La Habra on December 17.

Police News

Shadows of Halloween pranks fell across city police records yesterday as John Helberg, 410 Wellington street, reported a ladder, not his own, in his possession. "It was just brought here Halloween night without my knowledge or consent," Helberg explained to Officer W. H. Heard. "If someone proves ownership, he may have the ladder."

A three-year-old boy who was lost yesterday noon at the Santa Fe railroad station, with "mamma" absent, and no place to go, was returned to his home, 530 North McClay, by Officer J. W. Foster, records show.

BROADER IDEAL FOR EDUCATION URGED AS GOAL

A trip to Alaska the past summer on which a young niece was her guest formed the background for the travelogue presented by Miss Anita Shephardson of the Fullerton union high school faculty at the meeting of the Grand Avenue P.-T. A. last evening in the school auditorium. Characteristics of the people, scenic aspects of the country, and the larger cities of Alaska including the capital of Juneau were described.

Romance of the Alaska gold rush days depicted in a short biography of Mrs. Pullens, the "Mother of Alaska," extensive flower culture, and tales of Dead Horse gulch. The speaker also exhibited souvenir totem poles of her visit.

S. James Tuffree of Placencia, a second speaker, outlined statistical data of Boulder dam, a project costing $165,000,000 employing an average of 3500 men and with a monthly payroll of $500,000. He showed two reels of motion pictures of the dam which he had taken while on a trip there with his family.

Plans during the business session featured the P.-T. A. carnival scheduled for Saturday at the school grounds from 1 until 8 o'clock. Races for the children and a baseball game between members of the P.-T. A. executive board and teachers of the school will be opening features. In addition to booths where carnival food may be bought, side shows will provide a variety of attractions. A 5 o'clock barbecue supper will be under the direction of Arch Raitt of Fullerton, northern Orange county Y. M. C. A. secretary. Mrs. James Swain is general chairman for the affair.

Child study classes were conducted Wednesday with a session on the spiritual life of the child in charge of Mrs. L. A. Smith of the Lindbergh school. If sufficient interest is maintained, a second series of classes will possibly be started according to Mrs. La Rue C. Watson, spiritual training and character development chairman.

AIR-COOLED HOUSES FOR PIGS

LONDON, (UP) — A scheme which may put pig-breeding on a new basis and insure a regular supply of bacon the year round has been evolved at Rothamsted, oldest and most famous agricultural research station in the world. Experts believe that once the temperature problem is solved, it will be possible to raise pigs at any time of the year.

EVERY MOVE OF MY BODY CAUSED AWFUL GAS PAIN!

Stomach Swollen and Sore From Gas—Bowels Constipated and Kidneys Weak and Sluggish—Now This Los Angeles Man Tells How the Great Van-Tage Gave Him Blessed Relief.

MR. T. B. MCCUEN

Hon. T. B. McCuen, of 955 E. 28th St., Los Angeles, a Prominent City Worker for 25 years and a Charter Member of the Masonic Lodge, Mizpah 328, is now adding his name to the long list of local people who endorse VAN-TAGE, which is the "Amazing New Compound" now being introduced to crowds daily by the SONTAG DRUG STORES. Read what this Widely-Known Man has to say about this Remarkable Medicine.

Stomach Sore & Swollen With Awful Gas

"Oh! what an upset stomach I had!" said Mr. McCuen. "I bloated terribly after meals and had horrible gas pains nearly all the time. In fact, my stomach was so sore, swollen and painful from gas that every movement of my body put me in misery. Had also been a victim of constipation ALL MY LIFE, and had weak kidneys which kept me in pain with my back and broke up my rest at night. Finally I found Van-Tage and want to say to all that there is a wonderful medicine. It relieved my sort, gassy, painful stomach so I can eat without suffering afterward; and my life-long constipation is relieved and I don't have to eat up nights now with my kidneys. Just tell people to ask me if they want to know about Van-Tage, or they can telephone me and I will gladly confirm this statement."

OVER 30 INGREDIENTS IN THIS GREAT COMPOUND

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 ingredients, including 21 Great Herbs. It invigorates bowel, stomach, liver and kidney action as a carminative, laxative, choleragogue and diuretic, so that daily, people write us they feel different all over. The price of this Remarkable Compound is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Van-Tage TODAY! VAN-TAGE is now being introduced and explained to crowds daily by ALL SONTAG DRUG STORES.

SURVEY FINDS COLLEGES ERR BY SPLURGING

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(UP)—Educational institutions, notwithstanding the upward trend of private donations and federal appropriations, should use the money they receive more efficiently than they do, according to a survey by the Carnegie Corporation, president of the Carnegie Corporation, suggests in his annual report.

"There is a growing belief," Keppel says, "that our universities will gain rather than lose by adopting a less costly and pretentious scale of doing things."

He recommends elimination of purely "decorative" courses and deplores heavy expenditures for "sumptuous dormitories and dining halls, palatial classrooms and laboratory buildings, the appointment of ordinary people to extraordinary professorships, and 'varietal' in the library."

"American scholarly institutions have until recently been notably unco-operative," Keppel adds. "The items in a college or university budget first to disappear in days of falling income are those dedicated to the joint support of desirable enterprises."

Called "Rugged Individualism" "A policy of rugged individualism," tem has furnished the pattern which each institution has chosen to follow. College libraries have duplicated costly and little used books and journals already in nearby collections; departments have been "bought out" to adopt their own phrase, not because of any recognizable demand but to match or surpass the offerings of their neighbors.

"For each college in the United States to cut down its professorships by one, each university by two, would be no serious hardship. If as a vacancy occurred in some decorative but really unessential field it were left unfilled, it would not be many years before this would provide the funds for co-operative enterprises which would immensely broaden the opportunities of faculty and student alike with reference to art exhibits, music, drama, visiting lectureships, facilities for field work and foreign study, and for scholarly publication."

Keppel denies the contention of some observers that mounting federal taxation is cutting down contributions to schools by the wealthy.

"The curve of gifts and bequests which began to rise about the turn of the century is maintaining its upward course with reasonable steadiness," he says, "and may therefore be expected to continue to rise."

He says federal contributions toward educational and cultural enterprises have been greater than ever, and that as a result "some very substantial results have been achieved."

"The inclusion of the arts upon so broad a basis in the program of the Public Works Administration may also prove to have far-reaching effects," he points out. "Much of the great art of the past was created under conditions in which subject, medium, dimensions, and general manner of treatment were determined not by the artist himself, but by the requirements of the job under which he was put, and this is precisely the situation in which the worker up-

HALF-ACRE in EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, knows that the neighborhood is in Chicago, decides to go there to see the plane. Meanwhile, in Chicago, Frank Kendrick becomes aware of the search for him and again disappears.

TONY STELLICCI suspects his brother, CARLO, of being involved in the holdup. In Carlo's home he finds the loot from the holdup.

Marcia boards a plane to return home. Among the passengers is a stranger who had encountered in the hotel restaurant. His name is BRUCE McDUGALL.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

MARCIA'S plane had left Chicago in weather which was only a little better than bad enough to suspend service. There had been indications of improvement, sufficient to permit the plane's departure, but, several hours on the way, the pilot encountered conditions which the airport had not expected.

Marcia, gazing through her window into the haze at mental images which the poor visibility of the day could not erase, realized that the plane was about to land. She had not acquainted herself with the schedule of the flight and thought that they were making a regular stop, until she noticed that the landing was to be attempted not at an airport but in a field, snow-covered and isolated.

Considering the snow, the pilot made an excellent landing; it was not his fault that a drift-covered fence brought his plane to an abrupt stop, jerking the craft to one side so violently that a wing dipped and one propeller was badly damaged, and the passengers were rudely jolted.

Instantly there was a chorus of questions. The pilot and co-pilot emerged from the control room, and patiently and at length explained the decreasing visibility and the silent radio.

Then the two men opened a door and disappeared in the mist.

UNDER the ministrations of the stewardess, the cabin took on something of the atmosphere of a picnic. The coffee and sandwiches which would have been served within half an hour at any event were passed around, and people began to speak to their neighbors.

HONOLULU HUB IN AIR SERVICE

HONOLULU, (UP)—At request of Gov. Joseph B. Poindexter, Robert Campbell, district airport adviser of the department of commerce, has arrived from Washington to make preliminary plans for the creation of a $1,000,000 governmental airport here for the service of all transpacific and local lines.

The idea is that the airport not only should be the central "depot" for the transpacific Clippers, but for new lines from the Orient, Australia and New Zealand as well as inter-island lines.

Campbell first will study all the airports throughout the territory preliminary to drafting a plan bringing them up to the standard set for other parts of America. In the meantime, it is expected that work will get underway on the new international airport proposed here.

"Due to the fact," said Campbell, "that Honolulu is destined to become one of America's most important commercial aeronautical centers because of its strategic position for transpacific routes to the Orient and the Antipodes, we regard the construction of a great airport here as an ultimate necessity."

"This central mid-oceanic base would be available to all transpacific commercial air services, having facilities for land and sea planes. It is only a question of time when air travel over the Pacific will increase immeasurably and with that increase will come a demand for larger and more modern facilities in Honolulu."

Campbell said federal, territorial and army agencies are working in close connection of the project.

Wash. She has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Lewis in Orange.

After the games first prize was awarded to Mrs. Henry Luther and consolation went to Mrs. A. J. Kelly. Refreshments of jello, cake and coffee were served at small tables centered with chrysanthemums.

Present in addition to Mrs. Studebaker were Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. C. McNeil of Orange; Mrs. John Farnsworth of Halse, Mrs. Henry Luther of Anaheim, Mrs. W. H. Stennett, Mrs. A. J. Kelly and Mrs. Charles George.

CHADWICK MAY BE WEST POINT COACH

FORT DUPONT, Del., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Capt. B. F. Chadwick, coach of the 1st Engineers football team—champion of the 2nd corps area and peer of all east coast service teams—said today he has "heard rumors from Washington" that he will succeed Lieut. Gar Davidson as head coach at West Point.

"I have no official notification," he said, "in fact, I have no reason to believe the rumors are true. I simply heard them."

Capt. Chadwick's team has won nine straight games against service competition.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL SUBJECT OF PROBE

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 20.—(UP)—A new investigation into college football professionalism to save the "amateur spirit in collegiate athletics" impended today following a resolution passed by the National Association of State Universities.

The resolution, offered by President W. B. Bizzell of the University of Oklahoma at the association's annual meeting, asked the Carnegie Foundation to make another survey similar to the one which caused a furore a few years ago.

Serve Hamburgers At Out-Door Party

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 20.—An outdoor party held recently in the lovely rear yard at the Conrad Worthy home, observed the tenth birthday anniversary of Rolland Worthy. Friends from the fifth grade class of Oceanview school, attended and assisted the honoree in his celebration. Hamburger sandwiches were served with cup cakes, grape juice and candy, following the series of games. The group at the party included Orva Lee Aiken, William Biscualuz, Melvin Brown, Kenneth Buchheim, Harry Case, Roche Courages, Charley Duran, A. Gene Ervin, Joe Estrada, Gene Harding, Tommy Hotz, Kenneth Lawton, Billy Maxey, Eugene Mitchell, Howard Pampin, Pat Teague, Crescencio Trujillo, Nadine Bailey, Betty Brush, Louise Gerry, Ramona Hernandez, Eva Mae Mitchell, Betty Tunstall, Irene Tunstall, Dorothy Turner, Bobby Wood and the honor guest, Rolland Worthy.

SCHOOL HEAD HEARD AT P. - T. A. MEETING

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—A talk by the superintendent of schools, C. I. Thomas, was given at a meeting of the Maple street P. - T. A. Wednesday when Mrs. W. O. Hart, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Livernash sang a group of vocal solos which included, "Love," "Thou Art Like a Blossom," and "A Brown Bird Singing."

Thomas told of the importance to the child of harmonious conditions in the home and school. He took as his subject, "If Not Punishment, What?" Mrs. C. A. Palmer presided and a Christmas party for the evening of December 16 was planned.

Fourth grade mothers were hostesses and Mrs. A. A. Grant and Mrs. H. D. Bryant served tea from a table spread with a lace cloth where a yellow service was used and yellow button chrysanthemums were the flowers chosen as the centerpiece.

Departing Guest Is Party Honoree

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 20.—When Mrs. Charles George entertained her "500" club at her home on South Euclid avenue Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Chlois Studebaker was honored with a farewell before her departure on the following day for her home in Aberdeen.

FORUM SERIES TO BE OFFERED AT SEAL BEACH

Cultural opportunities never before available in this city will be presented to the public in a series of six open forums beginning on Tuesday evening, Dec. 1, according to announcement today by the Reverend Chester R. Lewis, study circle chairman of the Seal Beach Parent Teachers Association. Public spirited educators in Orange county and Long Beach are co-operating with the local organization in donating their time to launch the project with a minimum of expense to the community, he says. Meetings will be held in the elementary school auditorium.

Sponsored this year by the P.T.A., it is the plan of the organizers to make this series the first of an annual program with the backing of a city co-ordinating council. Mr. Lewis says. Members of the study circle committee who have helped plan the program are Mrs. J. N. Scott, member of the school board, and of the past-president's advisory board of the P.T.A., and Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin, P.T.A. treasurer. Various civic organizations, and the city council, are voting money to pay for printing folders to advertise the program.

The program follows: On Dec. 1, Dr. William J. Kloppe, director of high schools in Long Beach, on

CHURCH COUNCIL TO HOLD UNION RITES

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 20.—The Rev. Joseph Thompson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church, will be the speaker at the Union Thanksgiving services of the West Orange County Church council, which is to be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, at the Free Methodist church at Garden Grove, with the churches combined in the council. Those of Huntington Beach, Midway City, Westminster, Wintersburg, Alamitos and Garden Grove will participate. The pastor's subject will be "Why Should We Give Thanks?"

At the council board meeting held recently in the home of the council president, Mrs. C. Shackelford, Midway City was chosen for the holding of the February leaders' class meetings, which will be held each Monday evening through out that month. Wintersburg Methodist church was designated as the place for the holding of the West Orange county school of training, which will be held later. This, for the past two years, has been held at Westminster, and it is the object of the organization to divide the time between the different communities represented.

The Rev. Keech, pastor of the First Baptist church of Garden Grove, was elected dean of the next school of training session.

Mrs. Williams Is Honored at Party

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Clarence Williams, of Boulevard Gardens, who is the mother of a little new daughter, Mrs. Williams, was the honoree at a shower given by Miss Genevieve White at her home here, and at which many lovely gifts for the baby were presented.

The majority of the guests present were former schoolmates of the honoree, many of them having gone through elementary school as well as high school with her.

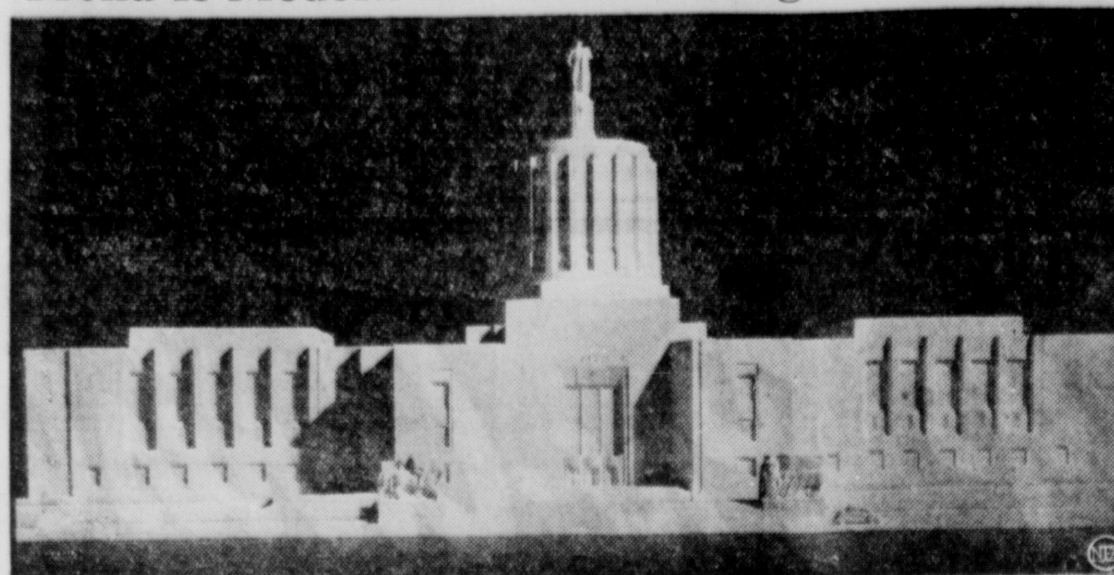

A clever motif was used at the table. Mrs. Williams was winner of the first prize in the games. Those present at the party included Mrs. Williams, the honor guest; Miss Virginia George, Miss Phyllis Jamison, Miss Helen Schoenberger, Miss Margaret Clinton, Miss Lucile Darby, Miss Isabelle Cyrausa, Miss Elenore Greer, Miss Lila Davis, Mrs. Roberta Stipp, Mrs. Phyllis Fredricks, Mrs. Edna Conrad and the hostess, Miss White.

Executive Body Is Formed by Scouts

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 20.—The executive body of Oceanview Boy Scouts has been completed with Scoutmaster Wilber to be assisted in the work by a committee which includes Messrs. McDaniel, assistant scoutmaster; Carl Bernger, resident of the Scout troop; Dewey Wood, Mills Cowling, Aaron Lawton, J. H. Thompson, as Scout committee.

Repairs for the Scout cabin has been voted by the executive body, a number of minor necessities to be put in. The Scout committee voted to put one committeeman in charge of each meeting, the members to rotate in its capacity. As Tuesday evening's meeting of the Scouts the regular work was carried on after which the 16 members of the troop and their leaders adjourned to the yard of the Wintersburg church hall where they had a party about the outdoor fireplace where they served their "meats."

Trend Is Modern in Model of Oregon Statehouse

Extremely modern is the trend of the new Oregon Capitol Building, a model of which is shown above. The building will be erected in Willson Park, Salem, at a cost of $2,500,000, with the firm of Trowbridge & Livingston submitting the winning design in competition with 126 architects.

DICKENS' CHRISTMAS CAROL TO BE THEME OF SCHOOL PROGRAM

ANAHEIM, Nov. 20.—Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will be the theme of the Christmas presentation at Fremont school this year. The story has been arranged to include musical numbers so that it takes the form of an operetta as well as a drama.

Miss Ethel Campbell and Miss Ruth Gredis are in charge of the production, and have selected their cast. While the dates of presentation are not definite, it is believed the performances will be as follows: Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 16, for pupils from other schools; Wednesday evening, Dec. 16, for the public; Thursday afternoon, Dec. 17, for Fremont pupils.

The following have been selected to participate: David Carlin, John Jagers, Nancy Shoemaker, Jimmy Wilson, Marjorie Knapp, Harry Beckman, Betty Armstrong, Roger Acton, Tom Hillery, Philip Hargrove, Marie Ward, Betty McCulloch, Clyde Butler, John Harpster, Mary Johnson, Beverly Wilson, Doris Jean Schneider, Henrietta Lane, Ruth Zimmerman, Betty Bath, Marjorie Fischback, Julie Osher, Bob Brooks, James Stewart, Jimmy Albright, Barbara Lee Jones, Dick Alden, Alvin Daniel, Lorraine Teasdale, Mildred Pace, Wyneth Kirkhart, Bob Handsfield, Lee Abbott, Lee Thaxton, LaVerne Hayes, Warren Norris, Alice Correll and Joyce Ann Hayes.

Skeletons of sea creatures are found in the Himalaya mountains, 17,000 feet above sea level.

STEEPLEJACK IS RESCUED AFTER FACING DEATH

GRANITE CITY, Ill., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Two hundred feet above ground, Steeplejack Robert Berieret set aside his brush, reached for the rope about his wooden seat, and began to lower himself along the smokestack he had been painting.

The rope slipped, and Berieret lurched for it frantically. He was too late. He plummeted past the smooth sides of the stack. Eighty feet he plumed, the coils of rope whistling and burning past his legs.

His body twisted and whirled, and his heel struck into a loop of rope. With a jerk that strained every tendon in his body, Berieret was brought up short, dangling head first 120 feet above the ground. His brush and paint pail smashed below.

As his breath and consciousness returned, Berieret looked up at his foot. To reach the rope with his hands would require a struggle that might loosen the rope and send him plunging the rest of the way. He looked down, saw a crowd gathering below.

Someone called the Granite City fire department. Firemen raised their ladders—the longest in the city. It was too short. Between Berieret and the tip of the ladder was a gap he could not bridge.

The East St. Louis fire department was called. They had a longer ladder. While he waited, fighting to stay conscious, the wind caught Berieret and smashed him against the smokestack. He dangled like an apple on a string.

There was a cheer from below when the East St. Louis department arrived. Cautiously the end of the long ladder was thrust up the side of the stack. It went up 115 feet and stopped. That was the limit. Berieret was still five feet from safety, and hopeless.

In the face of almost impossible chance, two East St. Louis firemen started up the stack with ropes. From the tip of the ladder they heaved a coil about the stack above their heads—and above Berieret. Holding to their rope, they inched themselves slowly up the side of the stack to the marooned steeplejack.

Two more firemen stepped up the ladder. The men beside Berieret braced themselves, tied another rope about him, and cut the one that entangled his foot. Slowly they lowered him to the men on the ladder.

At a hospital, physicians said today Berieret suffered only from a wrenched leg.

Police News

Five persons who pleaded guilty to speeding, were fined yesterday in Judge J. G. Mitchell's City court.

Forrest Leake, Midway City, paid an $8 fine for speeding and Jerry Willis, 1209 Cypress street, also was fined $8. A $6 fine was paid by Francis Perry McMaie, Los Angeles, for speeding; William F. Graves, 614 South Sycamore, also was fined $6.

Benjamin Gayle paid a $2 fine for failing to make a boulevard stop, when he was ordered to appear before city court yesterday.

2 BURGLARIES ARE REPORTED TO S. A. POLICE

Two burglaries and two attempted burglaries were during the past two days were under investigation of city police today.

Thieves last night successfully opened a padlock at the service station, Main and Edinger streets, and stole a quantity of candy and cigars, according to preliminary check-up by Officer N. C. Nelson. The same place has been burglarized upon several previous occasions.

L. C. Slacks, Seventeenth and Flower service station, reported to Officers Harry Fink, Nelson and William Nielsen, yesterday that would-be burglars smashed a glass showcase and window glass but failed to enter the place. Would-be burglars jimmied the front door of the A. P. Trawick place, 2030 North Ross, Thursday night, Trawick reported, but failed to gain entrance.

According to belief of Assistant Chief Harry Fink, the same burglars who attempted the Trawick theft without success, the same night successfully entered and ransacked the M. R. Daughters home, nearby, at 2041 North Ross, obtaining $526 worth of loot. They entered by cutting a window screen. In the Daughters' loot were 20 books of the Harvard Classics valued at $25; woman's fur (silver muskrat) jacket, $100; man's leather jacket, $12; man's tan shoes and black shoes, $17; man's slippers, $3; dark brown overnight bag, $12; brown traveling bag, $31; Eastman kodak, $20; Marlin rifle, $25; Illinois "captain's sword," $20; storm gun, $5; fishing rod and reel, $16; string of pearls, $50; woman's gold watch, $25; engagement ring, $5; men's watches, $85, and two cowbells of undetermined value.

WESTERN THRILLER ON STATE SCREEN

"Trallin' West," a new western thriller with Dick Foran and Paula Stone in the leading roles, is the feature attraction on the current bill at the State theater. The story concerns the adventures of a special agent sent to the west by President Lincoln to stop activities of certain groups of white men who were inciting Indians to warfare.

The program also presents a Popeye cartoon, "What? No Spinach?" a comedy, "Ladies Love Hates," a news reel and a chapter of "Custer's Last Stand."

The Kiddies club will hold its regular session at 1 p. m. tomorrow with ice cream for all members attending.

There will be home cooked food for sale and home made hand work including aprons, pot holders, table towels, comforter covers, all suitable for Christmas gifts. The proceeds are for the benefit of the church and everybody is invited.

MARITIME STRIKE AFFECTS SEAL BEACH CITY PROJECT

Maritime strike interference with city business appeared at Seal Beach yesterday at the afternoon session of the city council in the application of H. A. Tegel for extension of time to finish construction of the new city water works system. Pipe for the water mains is aboard the Jacob Luckenbach at the harbor and can not be unloaded, while fittings for the water works are still at Mobile, where the shipping company has refused to take freight for shipment, his request states. Shipment of the steel tower and tank is also being held up on account of the maritime strike, according to the Pittsburgh Des Moines Steel company.

Whether Seal Beach will join the county and other Orange county coastal cities in the erosion survey proposed by the city council of Newport Beach recently will be determined by the council as a whole after further survey. According to estimated figures, cost to the city would be $175 of the total $5000. Participation in the program was strongly recommended by City Engineer Victor W. Hayes as a start to building data for future coastline construction. White lines to guide traffic, particularly needed during heavy fog will be established or repainted, following recommendations of Mayor Elmer J. Hughes. Referred to the council as a whole and to Street Superintendent C. A. Miller for investigation with power to act the guiding lines will appear on Main street from Electric avenue to Coast highway, on Electric lane, and on Seventeenth street. Time for functioning of the planning commission may be shortened to 15 days after a regular or special session, if the request of that body, filed by John Burkhardt, secretary, meets legal requirements, determined by City Attorney B. B. Brown.

Participation in community projects will cost the city $25 to go to the American Legion auxiliary for filling Christmas baskets for the needy, and $5 to pay for circulars advertising the open forum series sponsored by the P.-T. A., according to motions made and passed.

That new building structures must conform to city building restrictions developed in refusal by the council of the request of Charles Horseman of Hollywood for exceptional privileges in remodeling structures at 1421 Seal way.

Vines trained on a lattice will be used to screen the entrance to the public rest room at Dolphin avenue and Seal way. It was decided, in response to a petition filed some time ago by property owners.

Routine business included second reading of the ordinance granting a five year extension of franchise to the Pacific Electric company, with legal description and time limit corrected. Attorney Brown reported that he is answering a petition for rehearing filed by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation in the tax limitation case in the fourth court of appeals at San Bernardino.

LA HABRA BUSINESS MEN PLAN PROGRAM

LA HABRA, Nov. 20.—Committees were named by the La Habra Business Men's club for the Christmas entertainment planned this year. It was thought by those present that last year's public entertainment had been highly beneficial in promoting good business and also community spirit.

SLEEPING VILLAGE IS PRESENTED AT BREA P.-T. A. MEET

BREA, Nov. 20.—Children of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades provided the entertainment at this week's meeting of the Brea P.-T. A. Mrs. Ray Wolfe, president, presiding.

With the "Song of the Red Man" as the theme of their program, the boys and girls, under the direction of Miss Edith Maxson, presented "Sleeping Village" in songs and dances. All were in costume and Navajo rugs and serapes were much in evidence.

An address on "Art Appreciation in the Home" was given by Mrs. Evadne Perry, superintendent of art in the county schools. Mrs. Perry made several interesting demonstrations of furniture arrangements and draperies.

Mrs. Wolfe announced the district meeting which is being held in Anaheim today. Mrs. Rudy Paise, membership chairman, announced the Brea unit now has 159 paid-up members. Awards for attendance at the meeting went to Cecile Templeman's and Maimie Ward's.

First 'Trailer Town' to Be Doomed by Court Ruling

National interest was drawn to this trailer colony in Orchard Lake, Mich., when it became the first in the country to be doomed by court decision. Justice of the Peace Arthur R. Green held that the trailer at the left violated an ordinance prohibiting construction of dwellings with less than 500 cubic feet of space per occupant. The owner, Hildred Gurnasol, factory worker, is pictured before his trailer, from which he had removed wheels while building an addition. Six other families facing similar suits will be allowed to move without being brought to trial. In Orchard Lake this new mode of living thus was banned completely, since another ordinance levies a prohibitive license fee of $100 an acre on persons renting property for use as trailer camps.

rooms for the Brea grammar school and to Elinor Elder and Horace Chancelor's room for the Laurel school.

The hostess group, serving refreshments following the meeting, included Mrs. Guy McIntyre, Mrs. W. E. Griffith, Mrs. S. O. Grey, Mrs. Harry Alger, Mrs. Howard Robinson and Mrs. Frank Fetting.

BRIDE-TO-BE IS GUEST AT PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 20.—Miss Valoe Patterson, fiancée of Clarence Applebury, of Smeltzer, who was the honored guest at a party given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Louise Basse at Walnut Park.

Various games were played with prizes going to Miss Joy Schnitzer and Miss Margaret Schauer. Miss Patterson was presented with a set of breakfast dishes.

At the refreshment hour a cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was placed before Miss Patterson to cut and serve.

Present besides the honoree and her sister, Mrs. Kenneth McMillan, were Mrs. Gene Miller, Misses Joy and Fernie Schnitzer, Margaret Powell, Janice Dales, Lois Mark, Margaret Schauer, Frances Chancelor, Jean Thurston, Billie McConnell, of Garden Grove and Mrs. Basse, of Walnut Park.

Until recent times, it was a common belief that lightning hurried down thunderbolts.

MENDENHALL IS HEARD AT MEET

FULLERTON, Nov. 20.—W. O. Mendenhall of the county school office recently discussed "Changing Conditions in the American Home" at a meeting of the Wilshire P.-T. A. held at the music room of the new school at 3 p. m. Mrs. O. W. Freck presided.

Mendenhall drew attention to the effect of the rapid changes now being undergone by society on the child, and urged that he be safeguarded. Mrs. William Rainbold, program chairman, presented him.

Prior to the talk, Mrs. Oleta Edwards led in group singing, and invited singing mothers of the Fullerton Council P.-T. A. to meet at her home at 152 North Cornell, Tuesday at 9 a. m. for organization of a mother's chorus. Miss Ruth Knowlton led in a discussion of books. Miss Wees read a Thanksgiving poem.

Hostesses of the day, Mrs. Helen Thompson, Mrs. Robert M. Seaman, and Mrs. J. D. Howell, served refreshments at the close of the meeting. Announcement was made that the class rooms of Miss Lois Shell and Miss Emelyn Avey would be awarded the prizes in the membership drive. The membership now numbers 156.

PLAN SERIES OF LUNCH MEETINGS

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 20.—A pot luck luncheon was voted for each executive board meeting of the Oceanview Parent-Teacher association for the remainder of the year, and the first will be held on December 10, at the home of Mrs. Perle Elliott. Combined with this will be a gift exchange in recognition of the approaching Christmas season.

The board decided to present a picture as the room prize this term from the P.-T. A. to the class with the most mothers in attendance at the organization meetings, and Mr. P. A. McKenzie, chairman of the membership committee, is to confer with Miss Phyllis Jamison of the school faculty on the subject of the picture most appropriate for presentation.

For tonight's P.-T. A. meeting, which has been designated as "Hobby" night and will open with a pot luck supper at 6 p. m., it was voted for all attending to bring their own table service. The coffee, rolls and butter will be furnished by the P.-T. A. and second grade mothers will be in charge as hostesses. The interesting program will follow an exhibit of posters and other features dealing with National Children's Book week will be on display at the meeting.

MESA W. C. T. U. HOLDS MEETING

COSTA MESA, Nov. 20. — The Women's Christian Temperance Union of the Community church met in the home of Mrs. Mary Bennett at their regular monthly gathering recently. After the day's program refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bennett.

Mrs. Minnie V. Reid, president of the organization, and Mrs. George Teaney were in charge of the devotional exercises for the day. Mrs. Bennett gave a vocal solo and Mrs. William Hume gave a poetic reading, one of her own compositions. Miss Sarah Conant, delegate for the local unit at a recent state convention at Bakersfield, gave a detailed report of that meeting. At the meeting she turned in $55.00. Costa Mesa's quota in full for the state's running expenses.

The next meeting of the organization will be held on the second Friday in December, it was stated.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

PERSONAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. — The Tugwell resignation was dictated by circumstances more personal than political.

The professor's sphere of influence within the New Deal had dwindled to just about one degree above zero. When the president handed over the farm tenant problem to Agriculture Secretary Wallace at 10 a. m. last Tuesday, there was little left for Tugwell to do but to drop in at the White House about noon and resign. He had been crowded out of the agriculture department by Wallace a year ago. He still had a desk there and received a salary as under-secretary, but only occasionally came around. His rural resettlement and subsistence homestead experiments turned out, by experience, to be playthings. He found they could never be built up into important national programs, as originally hoped. If he could have put across his plan for the tenant farm problem, in which he was deeply interested he would have had something to do here. But when that went to Wallace, there was little left to engage his talents.

Add to this the fact that even a brain truster can have a wife and two children to support, and you will wonder why it took him so long to find out there is more sugar in the American Molasses company, operated by his old friend, Charles Taussig.

Note—Tugwell was appointed on the Wallace farm tenant study committee, but the insignificance of the appointment lies in the position of his name on the list. It was next to last.

AUTOPSIES

You may suspect the Republican attacks had something to do with Dr. Tugwell's departure. They may have had some influence, but not very much. Neither did the yowling by so-called New Deal conservatives, who have been saying Tugwell was a political liability to the president.

If anyone got Tugwell, beyond his own earnest efforts in that direction, it was the liberal crowd around the agriculture department.

That is both an old and a new story. The trouble started when Dr. Tugwell was supposed to have irritated the meat packers at a time when AAA Administrator Chester Davis was trying to get them into line for the original AAA program. The split opened wide when Secretary Wallace purged his department of some of Tugwell's best friends.

One new angle on it is that Tugwell recently attempted to transfer his resettlement administration to agriculture and Wallace declined it nor did Wallace care much for the Tugwell farm tenant plan. It seems Tugwell wanted to organize a corporation like RFC and get started in a big way, while Wallace wants to start from the bottom.

Fundamentally, also, the AAA crowd has felt all along that the resettlement administration gave the New Deal a bad name. They considered Tugwell's effort to be basically contrary to theirs. He did not attack the farm problem from the standpoint of commodities and surpluses the way they have. His was a social program; theirs commercial. They have often cursed his set-up behind their hands more vehemently than Republicans have.

OVER-EMPHASIS

Tugwell has always been an exaggerated figure in the public eye. From the beginning, he had very little to do with general policies. For the past two years, he has not even been influential in framing agricultural policy, although he was nominally an under-secretary.

The infrequently observed Prof. Frankfurter and Moley were, and still are, highly influential inside the White House on general matters but Tugwell looked the part of brain-truster better than they. He had said so many things in so many books. His first name was "Red." He was youthfully collegiate. Thus while his inside role was no more than secondary in comparison, he became the official whipping boy of the headlines with cheek of red.

From a practical policy-making standpoint, his passing will mean only this: The leading social-minded philosopher will be eliminated from the New Deal picture, but there are many more important ones still left in it. There will be less of what the New Dealers have come to regard as "that Tugwell foolishness," but no change of policy.

So far as indicating whether President Roosevelt is going to turn to the right or left is concerned, it certainly means what it seems to be, because Prof. Tugwell was really unimportant in the development of economic policy.

NOTES

The navy admirals apparently do not know why the President chose young Charles Edison to be assistant secretary of the navy. They had nothing to do with it.

It was the number one brain truster, Prof. Moley, who brought the number two brain truster, Prof. Tugwell, into the New Deal, but they do not think alike and did not remain close friends.

Confidentially, the diplomats at the top here were annoyed when Germany and Italy hastened to recognize the new Spanish regime before the fire was out in Madrid. They thought it was bad diplomacy to pat the heel on the back before the corpse was buried.

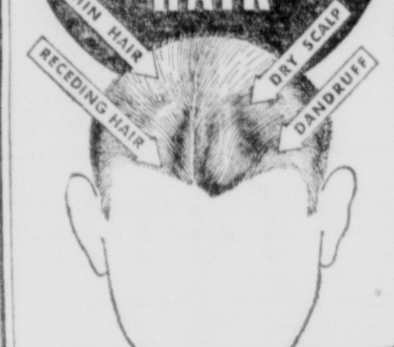

Present Dialogue At Society Meet

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 20. — A dramatic dialogue by Mrs. Carl Berger, based upon the Thanksgiving theme, was presented recently at the home of Mrs. L. S. Moore. The occasion was the regular session of the Women's Missionary society of the Wintersburg Methodist church. The devotional period was led by Mrs. Harry Letson.

Present for the business session and lesson study and program were Mrs. Raymond Beem, Mrs. Alton Hall, Mrs. George Harding, Mrs. Carol Hall, Mrs. John Murdy Jr., Mrs. R. L. Thibaud, Mrs. Harry Letson, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. L. S. Moore.

A survey of 10,000 rural homes in 33 states shows that 87 per cent of the women on farms never have vacations.

TONICITIS
(From Alcoholic Tonics)
RUINS YOUR HAIR

Watch These Symptoms They're Dangerous!

Most hair troubles — thin hair; falling hair; dull, lifeless hair; dandruff; dry, itching scalp; baldness — are caused by an insufficient or incorrect secretion of natural oil to properly lubricate and nourish the hair. All ordinary hair tonics contain alcohol. Your own physician will tell you alcohol dissolves and destroys natural oil, aggravates dryness, causing both hair and scalp to suffer from tonic-itis — or excessive dryness. Don't be fooled by that fling when you apply tonic. Correct the cause and you correct the trouble. Natone Natural Shampoo and Natone Natural Hair Oil are perfect hair conditioners, containing genuine Lanolin. They get rid of your hair trouble by getting rid of the cause of your trouble.

CHACCON WINS DECISION OVER RAOUL SOLIS

The Orange County Athletic club will be dark for the next two Thursday nights. One fight last night was stopped by Referee Frankie Dolan.

The fight card will be off next Thursday night because it is Thanksgiving, and the following Thursday because of the Golden Glove bouts in the city. New low prices were in effect for the first time last night, with the women free.

In a rematch which was an honest-to-goodness grudge fight, Frenchy Chaccon, manager, cursing L. A. boxer, was handed an unearned decision over flashy Raoul Solis, Santa Ana. By the referee's own judgment, Solis was one round up at the end of the third, and Chaccon certainly did not take a decisive enough edge in the fourth to earn a win. In the first round, Solis landed several hard, looping blows to Chaccon's face. In the second frame, Solis started a lone left and couldn't stop it before Chaccon had sunk to one knee. Solis pounded Chaccon against the ropes in the third, a bang slam round. Chaccon had a bad eye. The decision drew a chorus of boos from fans. Solis won the first fight he had with Chaccon.

Fast-stepping little Barney Rees, the Atwood atom, came out ahead in an action-packed bout with Art Perez, L. A. fighter, but many fans disagreed with the decision. It was close, and as good an exhibition of boxing as could be desired.

Tall and lanky Henry Moberly, L. A. darky, was tossed in the ring with Lupe LeMon, Fullerton cave-man. In an exhibition, no-decision bout, Moberly kept LeMon away with a stalling left most of the time, but LeMon waded in with hard blows to the body occasionally.

Shifty Babe Shaw, L. A. Negro, won a decision over Peeve Davis, another L. A. black. Shaw, tall and brown, was a better boxer than Davis, squat and very black. Black Alex Watson of the Big City, fought himself and landed a solar plexus blow that put Cotton Adams, another L. A. darky, to sleep in the second. The "fight" between two more L. A. backs, Clarence Thomas and Kid Buddy, was so poor the referee shooed the boys out of the ring. In the opener, two more Negroes had it at. Grayson winning by a technical knockout in the second after he had hit Jim Lawson in the seat of the pants and Lawson had collapsed.

Ernie Shive, delicate little 160-pounder from Tustin, who spends most of time pushing his opponents instead of hitting them, dropped a questioned decision to Corbett Marlow, L. A. Negro, who weighed about 20 pounds less than Shive. Shive's nose started bleeding in the first. He showed Marlow down in the second, and the two had a slugfest for a time. The Negro was down twice in the second, being pushed down and not knocked down. The third and fourth were done in slow motion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Northwestern will round out a perfect gridiron season tomorrow and stake a strong claim to the mythical national championship by defeating Notre Dame, United Press sports writers predicted today.

The other two perfect record teams—Marquette and Santa Clara—also will prolong their winning streaks. Marquette will defeat Duquesne. Santa Clara will have an easy time on Sunday against Loyola (California).

Two of the nation's three unbeaten but tied teams who see action will win. Louisiana State, preparing for its final game of the year next Saturday against Tulane, will defeat Southwest Louisiana. Fordham, a leading Rose Bowl candidate, will triumph over Georgia and will have only N. Y. U. on Thanksgiving day as its last barrier to a great season. Alabama is idle.

In the traditional Yale-Harvard game, Yale is picked to win the championship of the "big three" in a very close battle. Dartmouth is named to beat Princeton and become the first team in history to defeat all members of the big three in the same year.

Stanford is named over California in the Pacific Coast's annual "big game."

Other selections:
East-Holly Cross over St. Anselm; Manhattan over Villanova; Colgate over Syracuse; Iowa over Temple; Penn State over Bucknell; Boston College over Boston U.; Catholic U. over Western Maryland; Army over Hobart, and New York over City College of N. Y.

Mid West-Nebraska over Kansas State; Illinois over Chicago; Ohio State over Michigan; Indiana over Purdue; Minnesota over Wisconsin; Detroit over North Dakota; Michigan State over Arizona; Iowa State over Drake; Missouri over Washington of St. Louis; and Oklahoma over Oklahoma A. & M.

South-Georgia Tech over Florida; Mississippi State over Mississippi; Tulane over Sewanee; North Carolina over South Carolina; Georgetown over Maryland; Texas A. & M. over Centenary; and Auburn over Loyola.

Over Oregon—Oregon State over Oregon.

South West-Southern Methodist over Baylor, and Texas Christian over Rice.

Rocky Mountain—Brigham Young over Wyoming; Greeley Teachers over Colorado Mines; Colorado State over Colorado College, and San Francisco over Montana.

NEW YORK RANGERS TIE HOCKEY LEAGUE

(By United Press)

The New York Rangers were tied with the champion Red Wings for leadership of the American division of the National Hockey league today.

In three national league games last night, the Red Wings and New York Americans suffered their first setbacks and the Montreal Maroons scored their first victory of the season.

The Rangers administered a 1 to 0 defeat to the Detroit club. Les Canadains stopped the Americans, 2 to 2, but the Amerks held on to the lead of the international division with eight points.

At Chicago, the Blackhawks were stopped 4-0 as the Maroons climbed from last to third place in standings of the international group.

HAPPY BOLIVAR WINS

BAY MEADOWS, SAN MATEO, Calif., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Happy Bolivar turned on a fast finish to defeat "Invincible" Don Roberto in a six-furlong sprint at Bay Meadows yesterday.

Don Roberto, undefeated since leaving the Why Worry Farm, was a prohibitive favorite in the betting but could not cope with the pace set by the winner.

JIMMY McLARNIN MEETS LOU AMBERS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Baby-faced Jimmy McLarnin comes to the crossroads of his pugilistic career tonight when he tangles with Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers in a 10-round, over-the-weight match at Madison Square Garden.

Defeat by the Herkimer Buzzsaw who won the lightweight title from Tony Canzoneri last night, undoubtedly will send McLarnin into retirement, but a victory will give impetus to his campaign for a chance to repossess the welterweight crown he lost to Barney Ross in May, 1934.

The Vancouver Irishman was a slight favorite—about 7 to 5—because he is expected to have an 8 to 10-pound weight advantage. The fighters will weigh in at noon.

THREE JAYSEE TEAMS AT REST

EASTERN JAYSEE CONFERENCE

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Santa Ana	4	0	0	1.000
Chaffey	4	0	0	.750

San Bernardino	0	4	0	.000
Riverside	0	4	0	.000
Pomona	0	4	0	.000
Fullerton	0	4	0	.000

The games count half-a-game won, half-a-game lost.

While the Santa Ana Dons are playing their postponed game with Chaffey here tonight in what amounts to a championship game, Riverside and San Bernardino go in sectional during the Eastern conference bye week.

Riverside Jaysee will tangle with the Westerner Jaysee Parsons from Utah in a non-conference tilt at Riverside tonight. The Bengals should win, though the Utah boys are rated as the runner up in that state.

Doug Smythe's San Bernardino Indians—30 strong, invade foreign territory when they travel to Phoenix, Arizona, tonight where they meet the Phoenix Jaysee eleven tomorrow afternoon and return home Sunday. The Indians are slated to win after the way the Pasadena Jaysee team swamped them last Friday night 54-0.

Fullerton, Pomona and Citrus Jaysee's will be idle until Thanksgiving Day.

Frank Battaglia of Winnipeg offers Harry Balsamo, New York's belting brakeman, his next test as a middleweight in New York, November 25. Balsamo recently lost an important fight to Eddie (Babe) Risko.

STANFORD AND BEAR STUDENTS IN NEAR RIOTS

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Student enthusiasm preceding the annual University of California-Stanford "big game," scheduled for Saturday, boiled over on both campuses early today in post-rally riots in which cars were overturned, windows were smashed, and a plane was "bombed" and traffic disrupted for hours.

At Palo Alto, Stanfordites feared an airplane dropping over their campus was manned by Californians who had fulfilled a threat to stage an "air raid" on the Stanford rally.

The students brought out an aerial bomb set aside for the purpose and fired it into the air, in the general direction of the plane. The plane circled and disappeared. It developed later that the plane contained only non-partisan spectators who had chartered the ship to obtain a birds-eye view of the rally.

Three thousand students jammed Berkeley's downtown streets, forcing the east bay municipal railways to suspend street car service to Oakland.

Several street cars were depolled. Bonfires burned at street intersections. Several cars were turned over or rolled on to sidewalks.

One woman was given emergency hospital treatment for cuts suffered when a milk bottle hurtled through a street car window.

High voltage wires were cut for a distance of three blocks in one section of the city.

The riots culminated a week of mass exuberance in which students raided each others' campuses, burned letters on lawns and brought down a warning from President Raymond Wilbur of Stanford that further destruction of campus property might result in cancellation of the game.

The nation's largest football crowd this season—an estimated $2,000 will see the California-Stanford football game at Memorial stadium at Berkeley tomorrow afternoon.

The "big game"—over a spectacle—carried added flare this year of matching two teams that planned to utilize long and short passes and surprise laterals to get touchdowns. Neither team has a chance for conference honors—hence both expected to gamble.

A free-scoring contest—with the Bears favored about 10 to 8 on the betting marks—was the pre-game picture, as the fans saw it.

BRONCHOS PLAN EXTRA CONTEST

SANTA CLARA, Cal., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Santa Clara university's untied, undefeated football team is planning a post-season game, but it will not be in Los Angeles nor will it be staged in competition to the New Year's day Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Sam Dunne, Santa Clara graduate manager, said today.

Dunne said he had heard reports circulated in Southern California that Santa Clara intends to participate in a counter-attraction to the Rose Bowl game.

"These reports are absolutely false," he said. "We have no intention of competing with America's football classic."

"At present we are merely interested in finishing the remaining games on our schedule, and should we be so fortunate enough to come through undefeated we shall consider a post season game but not in Los Angeles."

The Broncos meet Loyola at Los Angeles Sunday and Texas Christian in San Francisco, December 12. They have won six games.

Two Hunters Treed By Mother Bear

MARÉINTON, W. Va., Nov. 20.—(UP)—Two hunters, Patrolman Robert Black and deputy sheriff Cecil Blum, of Logan, decided to take home two bear cubs for their children. The mother bear charged at them, sent the hunters up a tree where they remained an hour before the bear left. The hunters returned home minus the pets.

KUDO PUTS UP $200 FORFEIT

Kimano Kudo, Japanese wrestler, who added the name of Sander Szabo to his list of victims Wednesday night, proving that in spite of his 170 pounds he is capable of taking care of himself against giant heavyweights, today posted $200 appearance forfeit with Promoter Sampson as a guaranty he would wrestle the winner of the Floyd Hanson-Bob Coleman match later this month or in December.

MORE MEMBERS ARE NECESSARY TO RED CROSS

Red Cross membership increased during the past year by 200,000, bringing the total to more than four million. A greater membership is necessary this year in order to meet the increasing demand for Red Cross relief in disasters and for its other services to the public. In the past ten years the American Red Cross has spent $17,177,000 in disaster relief which came from special contributions, and from its own treasury it spent an additional $9,686,000. In this work and in other activities, more than a million volunteer workers give their time to carry Red Cross services to the public.

Under its charter from Congress, the Red Cross carries on service to the veterans of all American wars, and their dependents, and also service to men in regular army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard. The work does not stop here, for highway emergency first aid stations are being established by the chapters on main traveled routes, where trained Red Cross first aiders will give emergency care to the injured.

There are other committees in the chapters with qualified men to fill the chairman positions. Locally, Mrs. Laura R. Warren is chairman of the committee on home services; Col. M. B. Wellington, disaster relief; Harry Edwards, first aid on highways; Miss Margaret Glenn, life saving; home and farm accident prevention; George T. de Roubaix, home hygiene and care of sick; Mrs. Florence Holmes; Junior Red Cross, Miss Hazel Nell; volunteer production service, Mrs. Carrie Leebick; and Donald Jerome, roll call.

The annual roll call drive is being made this week, with Donald Jerome being assisted by Harold Brown in the business section; Mrs. Floyd Howard, Mrs. Harry Fink, and Mrs. Dorothy Russack in the residential section; and about 300 Red Cross volunteer workers throughout the county, with chairmen in the cities. Every business firm in the county will be solicited during this drive by the volunteer workers. The drive opened on Armistice Day and will close Thanksgiving Day.

Annual memberships are $1; contributing memberships, $5; sustaining memberships, $10; and supporting, $25. Only 50 cents from each fee goes to support national Red Cross service and the balance is retained by the chapter for local work. The Register is headquarters for donations from the residential section, and memberships may also be brought upstairs to the newsroom. The Red Cross chapter headquarters are in the rear of the Medical building at 624 North Main street, and Miss Margaret Esau may be called at 2913 during the day.

FOUR HONORED AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

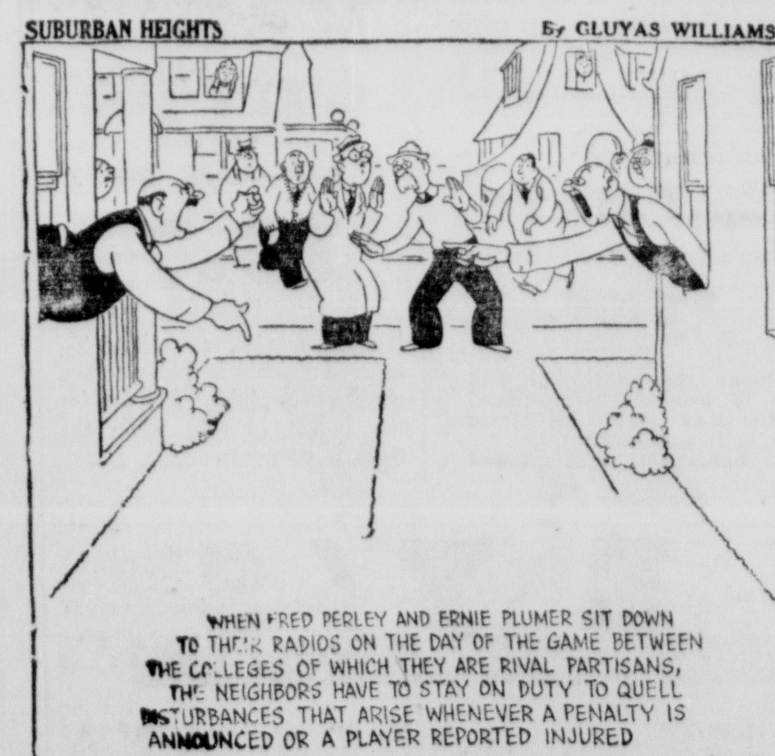

BUENA PARK, Nov. 20.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sophia on Kingsman avenue was the scene of a party this week honoring the birthday anniversaries of Arthur Fish, John Beavers, Tommy Nelson and Mrs. Sophia.

Monopoly and 500 provided entertainment for the evening. Prizes were awarded Mrs. John Beavers, J. J. O'Brien, Miss Olive O'Brien and Tom Johnson. Miss Trena Johnson presented the honor quartet with gifts preceding the serving of a refreshment course.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fish and family, Torrance; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crump and family, Mrs. Marrianna Johnson, Harry Johnson, Tom and Miss Trena Johnson, La Mirada; Mr. and Mrs. John Beavers, Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schiller, Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Stewart, J. J. O'Brien, Miss Olive O'Brien, Tommy Nelson, Mrs. Alma Nelson and family, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sophia and son, Cameron.

CO-EDS SCORN DATE BUREAU

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (UP)—Stanford University co-eds turned thumbs down on a proposal for a "dating bureau" to assure them escorts for social events. "Not for me. I'll do my own picking," was the almost universal rejoinder.

C. OF C. ASKS END OF WORK RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—The board of directors of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today adopted a report recommending that work relief as provided by the federal government be brought to an end.

The report said: "The committee does not propose sudden and instantaneous stoppage. Those gradual steps should be taken which are always essential when adjustments have to be made upon a considerable scale."

The chamber's recommendation regarding relief came as it and other business representatives launched a broad-scale drive to cooperate with the administration's re-employment efforts.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR TALK ON SALESMANSHIP

ANAHEIM, Nov. 20.—"Humanities in business is what brings the people back," Vice Ekdahl, salesmanager for Swift and Company, told a group of approximately 75 merchants at a breakfast meeting yesterday morning at the Marigold cafe.

"Take a little more time to know your customer, make a friend of him, be interested in his needs and activities as well as his needs in your line of goods, if you want him to come back to you," the speaker said in outlining a few of the essentials of a good salesman.

First of all, a salesman must be sold on his own product, Mr. Ekdahl believes. Then his display and advertising must be attractive to the customer, not merely from the standpoint of beauty but from the standpoint of psychology. He pointed out the Hallowe'en and Christmas celebrations comprised the only business taken up at the meeting. George Reid, secretary, announced the Hallowe'en party as costing $1281.38 against $1491.50 taken in, including the $400 from the city. This leaves $210.12 with which to start plans for the Christmas decorations. Les Herron, chairman of finance, reported collections for the Christmas party while incomplete are extremely satisfactory to date.

CARD PARTY HELD TO BENEFIT W. R. C.

LA HABRA, Nov. 20.—A card party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Launer and the proceeds will be turned in to the local W. R. C. of which Mrs. Launer is president. Mrs. Mary Rhoden, Mrs. W. O. Felton and Mrs. T. L. Fullinwider assisted Mrs. Launer.

Prizes were awarded to Mary Kelton and G. A. Davis, for high scores; to Mrs. Lydia Sanders and Glen Young, second and to Mrs. Hattie Davis and T. L. Fullinwider, low. Present were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Davis, Mrs. Mae Royer, Mrs. Lydia Sanders, Mrs. W. T. Warner and Mrs. Belle Hall of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Fullinwider, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Launer, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Felton, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Foster, Mrs. Ray Redfern, Mrs. Edith Cody, Miss Robert Boice, Mrs. Everett Donaldson, Mrs. Hubert Roberts, Jim Hart, Mrs. R. E. Frost, and Mrs. Launer.

Mrs. Stephens Is Hostess To Group

LA HABRA, Nov. 20.—Mrs. O. T. Stephens was hostess Tuesday afternoon and entertained a group of friends with a bridge luncheon. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Maynard Hicks, for high scores, Mrs. Homer Holzgrafe, second, and Mrs. Don Brookmeyer, third. Other guests were Mrs. N. M. Launer, Mrs. A. J. Wilson, Mrs. R. W. Vanderhoof, Mrs. A. W. McBride, Mrs. John W. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Young, Mrs. Paul D. Pratt, Mrs. George Collins of Whittier, and Mrs. H. S. Hoard.

T. E. WILLIAMS EXAMINER FOR UCLA COURSES

Thomas E. Williams of the Santa Ana Junior College Fine Arts press has been invited to accept the position of preparing and conducting the trade tests in Printing, Linotype and Bookbinding for the division of vocational education, University of California at Los Angeles. This department of the University is maintained by the State Department of Education for the training of vocational teachers.

Those persons desiring to secure credentials to teach in the trades and industries first make application to the teacher training division of the University, who pass upon their previous academic record, and satisfy themselves as to the applicants' other qualifications, then they must pass the State examinations, (which will be given in Santa Ana, in the three divisions above mentioned). After passing this test they must then complete the three year course in Vocational teacher training set up by the University. This course may be taken either in full time university attendance or in extension or evening classes while in service as emergency teachers.

Two examinations per year are offered. The next examination will be held in Santa Ana on January 8-9.

For many years this examination has been given by Frank Wiggins Trade School in Los Angeles. It is an honor to Mr. Williams and to the Fine Arts Press to have this request come to us.

MESA LEGION PLANS DANCE

COSTA MESA, Nov. 20.—Preliminary arrangements were made for the annual Christmas dance to be staged by the local American Legion at a meeting held by the post at their headquarters on Broadway this week. The exact date for the event was not determined. George Grupe was named as chairman of the program committee. It is to be assisted by Glen Cramer, Emmett Allen and Harold Graul.

Another committee was also named by Commander R. C. "Dick" Carlton. This committee was delegated to arrange for the post's annual turkey sale. Harold Graul, assisted by Emmett Allen and Bill St. Clair, will complete the plans. The post voted to go on record as in favor of the California ocean fish protection bill that is being discussed in the state senate. Reports were given from the various post members that had charge of the management of the Armistice Day float that was shown at Santa Ana in the "Safety" parade held there on Armistice Day. It was also reported that plans for the new Legion hall and Civic Center building that is to be erected by the post are in the proper committee in Washington, D. C., and that it is expected that they will be back soon in the hands of post authorities.

A. Wallman and Jack West of Indiana were accepted into the organization's membership. Al Jorgensen's membership was transferred to India where Mr. Jarlan expects to be employed for the next several years.

Arrangements were made for the post to attend a dinner that the post Auxiliary has planned to serve on Monday evening, Nov. 30.

DETRIXHE TAKES OVER BEACH CAFE

L. J. "Jim" Detrixhe, well known in Santa Ana where he operated the Green Cat cafe for several years, has taken over one of the swankiest restaurants and cocktail lounges in Santa Monica, according to word received here today.

After selling the Green Cat more than a month ago Detrixhe toured Southern California seeking a new location. Through the efforts of Ray Goodcell, Santa Ana realtor and business broker he purchased the stock, fixtures and lease of the Williams cafe, 336 Santa Monica boulevard, in Santa Monica. The deal, according to Goodcell, involved approximately $20,000.

Detrixhe, F. S. Williams, former owner of the cafe, and a representative of Goodcell's completed an inventory of the place this morning and the new owner took possession.

WATER PROBLEM IS DISCUSSED BY SUPERVISOR

TUSTIN, Nov. 20.—"The Proposed Orange County Water Election" was explained by N. E. West supervisor from the fifth district, at the regular dinner program of Tustin Farm Center at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, in the cafeteria of Tustin Union High school.

M. N. Thompson, county flood control engineer, was present to answer technical questions on the important question which will be voted upon some time in December.

R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the County Farm Bureau, installed the recently-elected officers: L. L. Ostrander, president; Edward Hall, vice president, and Mrs. L. R. Stearns, secretary and treasurer. Ostrander presided.

S. M. Stanley reported on the purchase of the building on North Main street, which will be used later for county headquarters. Flaherty told about the National Farm Bureau convention to be held December 6 to 11 inclusive at Pasadena and urged all to attend. The convention opens with a sacred concert to be presented at 7:30 p. m., December 6, in the Pasadena auditorium, at which time 450 voices will be heard in the chorus under the direction of Frank Pierce.

The Boys' Glee club of Tustin high school sang three songs. Mesdames C. H. Whitney, Perry E. Caldwell, Guy H. Christian, R. E. Caldwell and John Dunstan were in charge of arrangements for the pot-luck dinner which was shared at prettily decorated tables preceding the program by the 65 members present.

Attending were Mrs. Edmund Canfield, Mrs. Bernice Rettig and daughter, Mrs. Claybourne Swift and daughter, Mrs. Linn Cline, Mrs. Norton Skinner, Mrs. Douglas McGill, Mrs. Wilbur Proud, Mrs. P. B. Clark, Mrs. Charles Pool of Whittier, Mrs. Delbert Haines and Mrs. Edgar Lana.

Society To Offer Christmas Bazaar

LA HABRA, Nov. 20.—Plans were made for the Christmas bazaar at the Methodist church social hall, when the Dorcas society of the church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. W. LaMonte. Mrs. LaMonte entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon, with Mrs. Glen Folsom as co-hostess. Following the luncheon articles for the bazaar were made.

Attending were Mrs. Edmund Canfield, Mrs. Bernice Rettig and daughter, Mrs. Claybourne Swift and daughter, Mrs. Linn Cline, Mrs. Norton Skinner, Mrs. Douglas McGill, Mrs. Wilbur Proud, Mrs. P. B. Clark, Mrs. Charles Pool of Whittier, Mrs. Delbert Haines and Mrs. Edgar Lana.

INSANITY PLEA CHECK HEARING DINNER MEETS

K. M. Jackson, alleged check artist, pleaded insanity today, while his wife, Pearl Jackson, pleaded guilty and asked probation, in connection with passage of a fictitious check for $26.15 October 30 to Mrs. Clara E. Lake, owner of an Anaheim women's shop.

Mrs. Jackson will receive a probation hearing December 4 in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court. Attorney Alfred Appling represents her.

Her husband, represented by Attorney Thad S. Bean, Los Angeles, also was charged with four prior convictions of check passing, but one of these was dismissed today, on motion of Assistant Attorney James L. Davis, who admitted that the record was erroneous in that respect.

Davis refused to concede, however, Jackson's claim that the third count also was erroneous, stating that an investigation had shown it was a separate offense from the other counts. Jackson contended it was a recommitment for violation of parole on count two. He pleaded not guilty to counts one and three, and guilty to count two, in addition to presenting plea of not guilty by reason of insanity, in the Anaheim case. The prior counts allege convictions in Washington in 1921, 1923 and 1931.

Killen in Court
Charged with negligent homicide and drunk driving, in connection with the death of an unidentified man, whose bicycle was struck by Killen's car near Delaney Park November 3, David Killen, Long Beach marine, today pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for January 6 in department two.

$30,000 MOTOR COURT PLANNED

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 20.—Motor court facilities in a proposed $30,000 establishment at the northwest corner of Twelfth street and Coast highway, directly east of the Seal Beach elementary school, will be available by next summer to tourists here, according to a statement today by Mr. and Mrs. Ted J. Whiteman, purchasers of the five corner lots at that location. Handled through the office of Fred J. Smith, the deal for property probably will be through escrow by Saturday, the realtor says.

Contracts for the construction of the two and three-room cottages, costing $1000 apiece, will be let as soon as the escrow is completed. Whiteman said. Plans for the project specify stucco finished, thoroughly modern buildings with the whole group designed in architectural conformity. Coming to California from Rupert, Ida, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman have spent five months touring the state with a car and trailer, and are established at present in the trailer at the Motorade garage, Coast highway and 10th boulevard. Mr. Whiteman has been in the potato shipping business at Rupert for the past 12 years.

400 TELEPHONE WORKERS HOLD DINNER MEETS

Observing the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Telephone Pioneers of America, 400 employees of the telephone company in Santa Ana and vicinity were present at two dinners staged here one at the American Legion clubhouse and the other at the clubrooms in the telephone company building. The organization is made up of telephone employees with 21 years of service and similar dinners were held throughout the nation.

President Walter S. Gifford, of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, addressed telephone workers here and in the other cities throughout southern California, the United States and Canada in the country's greatest telephone communication.

The longest single telephone circuit, 25,000 miles in length, was used to take the words of President Gifford and Chester I. Barnard, the latter retiring president of the Telephone Pioneers of America, to the ears of the listeners. The conference circuit was connected to loud speakers at various company offices. Gifford and Barnard spoke from New York.

The great hookup was arranged to celebrate the anniversary of the founding of the Telephone Pioneers organization.

Police News

Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard and Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford returned late last night from Reno, where they went to take into custody, four 16-year-old Santa Ana boys, who went out to see the world. The boys were returned to their parents. The "A" model Ford which the boys were driving, was sold, at request of a local dealer, in Reno, for $25.

Joe Manjarez, 36, Los Angeles, was brought here yesterday after his arrest in Los Angeles, for prosecution on a charge he failed to support his minor child. He was returned by Deputy Sheriff Bob Steinberger.

C. Morrie, operator of "Sunny-side home" for children, in Garden Grove, complained to sheriff's officers last night that some miscreants tore down the advertising sign on the place and carried it across the street.

It was either a drunk driver or a driver who fell asleep at the wheel of his car who crashed into the Hosack fruit stand at Stanton and Launson roads, Westminster, sometime yesterday morning, sheriff's officers believed after investigation. The driver was a hit-and-runner, according to Hosack.

THREE LOSE LIVES
NEEDLES, CALIF., Nov. 20.—(UP)—An inquest was to be held today over three persons who were killed last night when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an out-of-control Santa Fe passenger train.

The dead were listed by Deputy Coroner P. B. Lorimer as Charles McNeel, 50, an employee of the Los Angeles city health department; Mrs. McNeel, 45, his wife; and Mrs. George D. Spicer, 37.

JUNIOR C. OF C. TO MAKE CROSS DRIVE

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 20.—At the meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Garden Grove, held in Blue Bird cafe this week, further plans for the annual Red Cross Roll Call campaign, which is being sponsored this year by the Junior chamber, were discussed. It was reported that besides Mrs. C. C. Violett, local chairman, others who had been working are Miss Dorothy Mae Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Goddard, John Ward and Harvey Emley. The following volunteered to help: Arthur Woodworth, J. W. Mitchell, George Crane and George Tobias, first vice president of the group who was in charge of the meeting.

Subscriptions may be left at the post office or received at the schools. The quota for Garden Grove is 150 members, this district taking in Westminster, Midway City, Bala and Garden Grove. Residents are urged to subscribe in their own community as 50 percent of the receipts stay in the district for Red Cross work.

The following committeemen were appointed to work with the senior chamber toward the foundation of a park district: J. W. Mitchell, George Crane and George Tobias.

Railway Strike In South Ends

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 20.—(UP)—The two months old bloody strike on the Louisiana and Arkansas railway ended early today when company and union officials signed a conciliation agreement. Eight persons died during the strike while trains were being operated by strike breakers. A number of trains were derailed, bridges were fired, and stretches of right-of-way destroyed.

WOLFORD HEADS POULTRY GROUP

A. L. Wolford was re-elected chairman of the poultry department of the Orange County Farm Bureau, last night when department members held their annual meeting.

Other officers elected included: O. L. Kramer, vice chairman; A. F. Schroeder, director, and A. F. Heinemann, E. F. Zimmer, Krammer, Wolford, Frank Jones, Schroeder and A. S. Walker, delegates to the Seven Southern Counties Poultry department.

E. G. Campbell, Mrs. Emma Childers, Ross Crain and Heinemann were named members of a committee to investigate legislation that permits only veterinarians to administer preventative vaccines to chickens.

The department members also approved proposed changes in the poultry and egg laws of the state which will be presented to the state legislature at its next session. The changes were suggested by the southern counties organization. A resolution objecting to the ruling of the state board of equalization, placing a sales tax on the sale of pullets, also was adopted.

The United States annually produces fewer than 1000 carriages, buggies, two-wheel carts and sulkeys.

MRS. J. MITCHELL SHOWER HOSTESS

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 20.—Mrs. J. W. Mitchell entertained with a shower recently at her home on North Walnut street in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leland Mitchell.

The afternoon was spent playing games in keeping with the occasion. A prize was won by Mrs. Richard Haster. The honoree was presented with gifts which had been placed in a box decorated with pink crepe paper and ribbons.

For refreshments guests found their places at small tables centered with pink flowers and nut cups in the shape of baby shoes at each place. Guests were Mrs. Vernon Newsom, Mrs. Roy Newsom, of Rivera; Miss Leon Reddish, of Calexico; Mrs. Richard Haster, Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Raafsyder, Miss Lida Mitchell, Miss Fernie Mitchell, the honored guest, and the hostess.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20.—Difficult to perceive what limit, if any, movie stars place on their personal privileges, gloves, even pocketbooks, are common events. A new high (or low) in brass was reached a few mornings ago when Jobyna Ralston, Dick Arlen's wife, glanced in a mirror and saw the reflection of a strange man in her bath room. She wheeled to demand what he was doing in her house. Half-drunk, he answered that he had entered through the garage. "You're a movie star," he smirked. "If you don't want people to come in, lock your doors."

This was not the first intrusion of the Arlen estate. Last spring a drunken woman quivered and crawled through the thick cypress hedge that surrounds the grounds. On that occasion Jobyna and Dick had difficulty getting rid of the unwelcome caller. Because she was a woman they did not like to call the police. They at last satisfied her with autographed pictures and one of Arlen's monogrammed handkerchiefs.

Nerviest act to my knowledge was that of a young man who hitch-hiked here from Oklahoma. He somehow persuaded Robert Montgomery's cook that he was a personal friend of the star, and when Bob arrived, the intruder had finished an afternoon and was bathing preparatory to dinner. The cook had set an extra plate. Fortunately for the unbidden guest Montgomery has unerring sense of humor. The episode feathered his funny-bone, and he fed the fellow, quartered him for the night, and next day sent him back to Oklahoma.

Doggonest thing I have seen in a con's age is Harmon O. Nelson's singing Doberman. Nelson is Betty Davis's husband; she gave him the dog. Perhaps it is because Nelson is an orchestra leader that he has musical ambitions for his pet. At any rate, he is teaching the Doberman to howl the scales. You may strike me down with a be-

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 20.—Several services of the four days' session of the National Preaching Mission in Los Angeles were attended by persons from the Wintersburg Methodist congregation. Among those who attended were the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. W. F. Slater, Mrs. Joseph Tucker, Mrs. Carl Bergner, Mrs. Alton Hall, Mrs. A. E. Hubbell, John Tucker, Miss Alice Slater, Miss Helen Bergner.

Mr. and Mrs. James VanMeter have been entertaining Canadian friends in their home this week.

Mrs. John McIntosh, who is confined for six weeks in a cast as the result of a broken vertebra sustained in a recent automobile accident, had as callers this week Dr. Frey and family of San Gabriel; Mrs. Lang, of Alhambra; Mrs. Schneider, of Los Angeles, and her mother, Mrs. Hartshorn, of Wilmar.

Mr. and Mrs. DeBie and family of 13 children, who took the David Russell place upon their recent arrival from Iowa, moved this week to Artesia where they will take over a ranch.

Mrs. Ralph Huff has returned from Lawndale, where she was the guest for several days of her son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Al Berecase.

Mr. and Mrs. James Letson, of Bakersfield, accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Rowe, have been visiting here with relatives and with Mrs. Letson's mother, Mrs. Bloomquist, at Alamitos. While here, the Bakersfield visitors, Mrs. Bloomquist, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Letson, Jimmie and Laddie Letson, were entertained at luncheon in the Harry Letson home.

100-YEAR-OLD SAW STILL IN USE IN COUNTY

A hand saw, more than 100 years old, used in construction work of the Michigan Central Railroad, is still in daily use in Orange county.

The saw is owned by Mrs. Martha Wells of Oceanview and was handed down through the family from Capt. Hiram Mills, the original owner. Captain Mills was one of the pioneer legislators of the state of Michigan and one of the builders of the Michigan Central railroad.

It was while he was engaged in railroad construction work that Captain Mills secured the saw. Today the tool, still as efficient as the day it was purchased and with its handle of well seasoned wood that has never been replaced, is in almost daily use.

Captain Mills, original owner of the saw, was the great grandfather of the late John J. Wells, who died within the past year. The saw had been handed down, through five generations, to Wells.

Another treasure owned by the Wells family is the "Wells Family Tree," a volume dating back nine generations in America and to England, the original home of the family prior to its removal to America. The family of the late John J. Wells and that of Gen. Hiram Grant are of the same lineage.

Among other treasured souvenirs of the Wells family are a woven tapestry and a pair of handmade baby shoes, with wooden pegged soles. The baby shoes were made by the great-grandfather of the present generation of the Wells family and are held priceless.

It has been a tradition in the family that the mothers, at some time, slip the tiny shoes on the feet of their babies. This tradition, however, is nearing an end as the leather has grown so stiff that it is almost impossible to put the shoes on tiny feet even for a moment.

Wearing Apparel, Jewelry Stolen From Home Here

Wearing apparel, jewelry and numerous personal articles valued at $526 were stolen from the home of M. Robert Daughters, 2941 North Ross street late last night, according to a report filed late today by Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink, who is investigating the case.

Entry to the home was gained some time last night by cutting a screen on a rear window. One of the articles stolen was a valuable fur jacket. Watches, handbags, suitcases, and fishing equipment were among other articles reported missing by the owner.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

FIRST SIGHT OF AMERICA

FOR three weeks Christopher Columbus headed his three small sailing ships southwestward to the Canary Islands, and then the little fleet set sail to the unknown west. For two weeks only the blue waters of the deep Atlantic were seen. Then the ships struck an area of floating weeds, and the land-hungry sailors thought their goal was nigh.

But this was nothing but that extensive "prairie" of floating seaweed known as the Sargasso Sea, and so for days more Columbus went on toward what he believed to be Cipango, or Japan. The sailors were getting fretful. Columbus deceived them daily by reducing the distance that he covered, so that they would not become panicky over getting too far away from home.

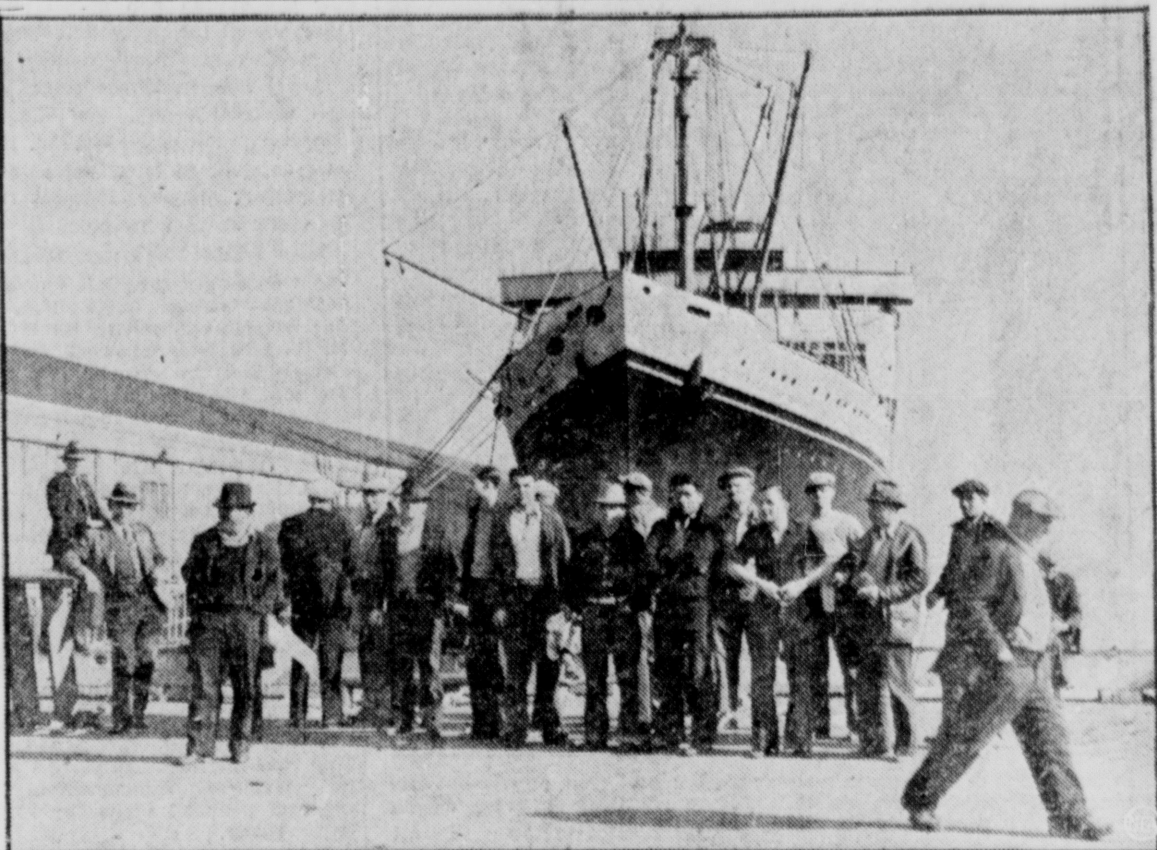

Finally, on Oct. 11, carved logs, stalks of rose berries, and other sure signs of land floated by, and early the next morning land was sighted. It was San Salvador, one of the Bahamas.

The one-cent stamp of the U. S. Columbian series of 1893 pictures this momentous discovery.

STUDENT PILOT DROPS TICKETS

Santa Ana Junior college gridiron advertising reached a new "high" today when its publicity director took to the air to advertise tonight's Chaffey-Santa Ana game.

Jack Schilling, freshman student this semester, piloted a plane over the city and distributed handbills containing game information. More than 5000 bills were dropped from the plane. To many of them were attached complimentary tickets for tonight's contest. Schilling has been a student flier for several years.

According to Associated Students President Vic Rowland, the stunt was the most original ever staged by the college for advertising. It has been estimated that total attendance at the game will break all records for games outside of the traditional Thanksgiving day contest.

CALL SPECIAL BOARD MEETING

Employment of one or more attorneys to act as special counsel for the Orange county flood control district, in connection with bond proceedings and condemnation matters, as well as other legal details of the federal $13,000,000 flood control project, will be discussed by the county supervisors in a special meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Attorney Albert Launer, of Fullerton, who was in conference with the board this week, probably will be one of the legal staff retained, if such a step is taken, it was understood.

One member of the board, N. E. West, has expressed himself as favoring employment of several attorneys to conduct the vast amount of negotiations necessary in acquiring right-of-ways for the Prado dam, and other flood control works contemplated.

Writing - to Sell -

By ETHEL LOCKWOOD

CAN YOU TAKE IT?

If you are interested in writing to sell, and you are a member of any writing group I superintend, you are going to have to understand exactly what is meant by criticism.

No criticism is given ruthlessly. No criticism is given for the love of it. No criticism is given that is not—in my opinion—necessary. I know this holds true with other conscientious critics and teachers. Oh, if beginning writers could—or would—learn there is nothing so saving of a personal insult in the criticism they receive on their manuscripts!

"Why—I don't believe she wants us to write!" is a remark that came back to me recently.

Nothing could be further from the truth. I most certainly DO advise the beginner to write. He should write—and write—and WRITE. But he should use judgment in mailing out his manuscripts. There is absolutely no sense in mailing a manuscript that is not ready to mail. It will do you no good to get half-baked material into an editor's hands.

Maybe you don't think it's half-baked. Maybe it isn't. But if you handled as many beginner's scripts as I do, you'd be pretty skeptical. Some of the material, presented as finished, isn't even one-quarter baked.

Let's Use Our Heads. We're not going to jump into the writing business with one pip. We're going to have to do some studying—either in class, or by ourselves.

Talent, yes, the world is seething with talent. But talent isn't going to do anything for you UNLESS YOU HARNESSE IT. Let talent run wild, and you'll be crazy as a hoot owl. It's positively dangerous to be talented, and not know what to do about it.

Of course you can write!—but can you SELL?

Maybe you don't want to sell. If that's the case, you won't want to waste any time submitting scripts to me. I'm a cold-blooded, commercial-minded writer. I want to write things editors want to buy, and when they accept them, I want to be paid for them. I won't even sell to publications that pay on "publication." As soon as the editor stamps "okay" on my manuscript, I want my check.

I know of critics who ought to be shot on sight. They think of nothing but the FEE they get out of beginners who are lured into their traps by slick-sounding advertisements. "Now, that's fine," these critics say, after you've paid them five to ten dollars to criticize a script (or fifty dollars to collaborate on one!) "this story ought to sell to one of the big slicks."

Yeah, it OUGHT to, but it won't. Critics who make it EASY for you to take criticisms are your worst enemies. You can't build a house without a foundation—not if you're building a real structure. Your foundation in the writing business should be honesty and truth.

You'll find BUNK everywhere. If you want BUNK—at five dollars a throw—by all means get it. But I'm not going to kid myself—and I'm not going to kid you. I'm not going to tell you I think a manuscript will sell, if I don't think so. I may be wrong, but I'll tell you the truth as I see it. You probably won't like me, but I can take it.

SEARS, ROEBUCK WORKERS HERE TO CUT MELON

Local employees of Sears, Roebuck and Co., will share in the $1,500,000 "Jubilee Wage Payment" recently voted by the firm's directors, Manager Geo. Shanahan of the Santa Ana Sears store, stated today.

The information was released following receipt of a statement from General R. E. Wood, president of the company, notifying Manager Geo. Shanahan that the disbursement of the special Jubilee employees' fund would start in this city, as in all other parts of the country, on Friday, Dec. 11.

All regular employees whose period of continuous service extends six months or longer, with the exception of officers and certain key executives who receive "performance" bonus compensation, will participate in the "Jubilee Wage Payment."

The share received by individuals will depend upon their length of service on the basis of between six months and a year, a year and two years and more than two years of service.

Those with continuous service records of more than two years will receive two weeks extra pay; those with records of from one year to two years will receive a week's extra pay; those with records of from six months to a year will receive a half week's extra pay.

General Wood's announcement stated that the directors had decided to make this extra 1936 payment to the employees because of their especially effective efforts toward making the company's Golden Jubilee celebration which has extended through the current year such an outstanding success.

He said: "I have issued few official announcements during my tenure as president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., that gave me more pleasure than this one."

"The loyal, sincere and energetic efforts of this company's employees have made a brilliant success of the Golden Jubilee. I am more than glad that they are to receive this extra wage payment because I am convinced that they deserve it."

Others attending were Mrs. Ralph Winger, Mrs. E. E. Miller, Mrs. Olga Elliott, Mrs. H. R. Eller, Mrs. Louise Ivers, Mrs. Henri Clayton, Mrs. H. S. Lytle, Mrs. Henry West and Mrs. R. M. Reed.

With more than 11,000 members, the daisy family depends on bees for fertilization.

GROWERS URGED TO DESTROY PEPPER WEEVIL HOST PLANT

With the completion of the harvest of the pepper crop in many fields at this time of year, growers are urged to immediately disc under or plow their fields so that the vines of the present crop and the infestation of weevils will be destroyed, according to Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg.

The destruction of all plants of the nightshade family is also of equal importance. Growers should be careful to destroy these plants that are often overlooked around fences, ditches, stanchions and buildings.

The purpose of this practice is to prevent the pepper weevil from living through the winter. As this very harmful insect can only live any length of time on the various varieties of peppers and nightshade, the complete destruction of

CARL A. HEINZE IS SPEAKER AT LEAGUE PARLEY

A record crowd filled the dining room of the Orange Woman's clubhouse last night when members and guests of the Orange County League of Municipalities met to hear a discussion on municipal lighting and power with the principal address of the evening given by Carl A. Heinze, superintendent of the Los Angeles light and power plant and consulting electrical engineer of that city.

Mayor A. Croxton Boice of Orange, vice president of the league, presided in the place of Fred Rowland, of Santa Ana, president.

Robert Boulden, superintendent of the Riverside city light and water plant, gave a brief and concise review of the city plant's operation.

Roy Hansen, head of the Anaheim municipal light plant, traced the beginnings of the Anaheim plant since 1895 at which time the city generated its own power. Power has been purchased at wholesale since 1916 and distributed by the city. The Anaheim Union high school, he stated, is the only one in the United States to be electrically equipped throughout.

C. E. Reed, of Oakland, head of the utilities department of the state league of municipalities spoke on three bills to come before the next legislature which are designed to regulate bond issues for establishment of municipal plants.

Dinner was served by the Orange Woman's club and a novel feature was introduced in the table lighting. A row of miniature street lights were placed on green runners the length of each table and as guests were seated room lights were turned off and lights in the street lamps turned on giving the effect of well-lighted avenues. Decorations for the stage included candelabras and vines combined with fall flowers.

Representatives of all cities of the county were present with the exception of Newport Beach. The city of Fullerton had a delegation of 22 headed by Mayor Harry Maxwell. Assemblyman Clyde Watson, Senator Nels Edwards and Senator Harry Westover were included. The Lyric trio of Orange, Mrs. A. D. Burkett, Mrs. Leon DesLuzes and Mrs. Walter E. Kogler, with Mrs. Margaret Ockles as accompanist, gave a group of numbers. Dinner music was furnished by the WPA orchestra.

Joys of Thanksgiving Are Increased by Clever Favors

By NEA Service

Vivid harvest colors are the things for the Thanksgiving centerpiece. Have you a large wooden bowl? Then use it. Fill it with bright vegetables, arranged in a mountain of bounty. Use brilliant white cauliflower, red cabbage, bananas, golden squashes, blood-red beets and a few green leaves thrown in with bunches of vivid broccoli or gleaming spinach leaves used as a bed for the vegetables.

Apples, polished to a fare-thee-well, dark brown bananas, dried figs leaning against spiky skins of perfect lemons—all these clustered together in mounting brilliancy on a flat, gleaming brass tray will give dash and harvest feeling to the table.

Oak leaves and chrysanthemums, highly colored pottery figurines, red berries from the woods, or even a large, lustrous pumpkin resting on a bed of autumn leaves—that's certainly a seasonal decoration.

Use Hearty Colors
Whatever you choose, look for laughing colors and vivacity. This is not the season for delicate pinks and whites, for greens that are like feathers, nor for colors that add reflected charm and fragility to the dinner atmosphere. Strong color, firm shape—it's harvest time and mankind is giving lusty thanks.

If you like place favors, use gadgets in the shape of turkeys or pumpkins and fill them with colorful candies. The chopping and standing seriously may get a laugh from your invited guests. It is really a candy box—brightly colored and full of promise.

Another attractive Thanksgiving favor is a wobbling gobbler whose wired head wags with a wisdom only plump turkeys can understand. It stands before the napkins, carrying a harvest of good candies from the best confectioner in town. It's brilliant tail is spread with welcome and pride. It is new this year—he is proud of it.

Luncheon Precedes Afternoon of Games

Members of Just A Mere club were entertained Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. M. M. Hansen was hostess in her home, 2111 Rousseau street.

Luncheon was served to precede an afternoon of crotchet in which prizes for the three highest scores went to Mesdames Etha Mustard, W. R. Ellis and Nellie Belz.

Others present were Mesdames Sarah Daniels, Lillian Endres, J. H. Farrell, Bessie Gleason, Lena Hansen, Agnes Hopkins, Eula Weaver, Pearl Nelson and the hostess, members: with Mrs. M. M. Hansen's mother and sister, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Marie Johnson, who were guests.

The next meeting will be held December 2 in the home of Mrs. Lena Hansen, 320 East Pomona street.

NEW ARRIVAL
Little Miss Judith Lee Perkins, who is a week old today, soon will be able to leave St. Joseph hospital and accompany her mother, Mrs. A. T. Perkins to the family home on Old Park road. The new arrival is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, whose son, Roger, will be five years old in January.

Weighing eight pounds and 10 ounces, Judith Lee made her arrival Friday, November 13. She was the 13th baby in the hospital the day she arrived, and she is the 13th member of her family's third generation.

The new arrival's parents are well known in this city, where they made their home formerly. Mrs. Perkins is a member of the local Mayflower club.

PLAN FAVORS

Favors to go at each place for Thanksgiving, best carry out the spirit of the day when the great American fowl, Mr. Turkey, has prominent part in them.

San Diego Beaueants Visit Local Assembly

Fifteen San Diego Beaueants were in this city Wednesday to share a luncheon and initiation meeting with members of Social Order of the Beaueant in Santa Ana Masonic temple.

It was the local assembly's privilege to initiate Mrs. Frank E. Wierck of Washington, D. C., as a new member of San Diego's organization. Mrs. W. E. Patterson, president of the hostess group, was presiding officer.

San Diego members, assisting with the ceremony were Mrs. Minor J. Hyde, who filled the station of mistress of the wardrobe; Mrs. Clyde Kirkendall, second vice president; Mrs. S. Thompson of Long Beach was musician and Mrs. R. Cravatt of Long Beach was vocal soloist.

Short talks were given by Mrs. Harry S. Novak of San Diego and Mrs. Dean Wessel of Hollywood. Luncheon at noon was in charge of hostesses including Mesdames L. L. Whitson, C. S. Dunphy and W. M. Clayton.

Others present were Mesdames Sarah Daniels, Lillian Endres, J. H. Farrell, Bessie Gleason, Lena Hansen, Agnes Hopkins, Eula Weaver, Pearl Nelson and the hostess, members: with Mrs. M. M. Hansen's mother and sister, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Marie Johnson, who were guests.

Harvest Luncheon Adds To Enjoyment Of Past Matron's Meeting

Strutting turkey figures adorned table cloths and napkins which were included in autumnal appointments for a harvest luncheon enjoyed yesterday afternoon in Masonic temple by members of Hermosa Past Matrons' association.

Mrs. F. H. Gloyes, Mrs. C. E. Moore, Mrs. A. H. Pease and Mrs. Daniel Halladay formed the hostess committee in charge of the event. Unable to be present for the luncheon, Mrs. Halladay was represented by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Birkhead, who aided with decorations and centerpieces.

Red tapers in crystal candlesticks adorned tables, with their arrangements of fruit overflowing from huge bowls. Guest honors were accorded Mrs. Mollie P. Kerch and Mrs. R. Watson, who later became members of the association. Mrs. Olive G. Yeo of Ashland, Ore.; Mrs. Alice Peterson, speaker of the day, Birth-day anniversaries of Mrs. Joe C. Burke, Mrs. J. F. Jacoby and Miss Henrietta Bohling were celebrated.

Preceding a business meeting in charge of Mrs. Charles Mitchell was a talk by Mrs. Peterson, who discussed current shoe style as well as fashions of yesterday. She had arranged an interesting display of footwear as a feature of the program.

Mrs. S. A. Moore was in charge of devotionals. Plans were made to hold a gift exchange at a Christmas party next month. Members were reminded to bring a second gift for residents of the Eastern Star home.

Miss Henrietta Bohling, Hermosa chapter worthy matron, was a guest. Others present were Mesdames Mollie P. Kerch, Maude Watson, W. D. Barker, C. D. Benight, Joe C. Burke, Thomas Brooks, Jacob Bohlander, F. H. Gloyes, F. D. Drake, C. S. Dunphy, John A. Harvey, Blanche Hansen, H. T. Jones, J. F. Jacoby, C. W. McCormac, S. A. Moore, C. E. Moore, J. R. Medlock, Charles Mitchell, George Osterman, A. H. Pease, Jennie Peck, Fannie Reeves, Max Reinhaus, Straussberger, H. T. Trueblood, Jeanette Terwilliger, T. A. Winbigler, Roscoe Wilson and Dr. and Ada K. Henery.

Seven o'clock was the hour for the ceremony at which the bride, daughter of Ben vander Horst, of this city, exchanged vows with Mr. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hawkins, 302 Fairview street. The Rev. Father Francis O'Brien conducted the ceremony.

The bride wore a white brocade satin gown fashioned with train and leg of mutton sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and roses, and wore garnishes in her hair. Observing bridal tradition, she carried as a "something old," a 60-year-old lace handkerchief given to her by Mrs. E. C. Robertson.

Miss Anne vander Horst, who attended her twin sister as maid of honor, was attired in a pink and blue gown with accented sleeves. White sweet peas and blue delphinium formed her shower bouquet. Pete Bloom was best man.

The Hawkins' home, decorated with pink carnations and yellow chrysanthemums, was setting for a reception following the ceremony. Three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the new Mrs. Hawkins.

The young couple left for a short trip, the bride attired in a black satin tunic with patent leather accessories.

Guests at the wedding were the bride's father and sisters, B. vander Horst and daughters, the Misses Helen, Emma and Anne vander Horst; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hawkins and daughter and son, Helen and Stanley; Mr. and Mrs. L. Cruzon and son, Garman and Pete Bloom.

Both the new Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins are graduates of Santa Ana High school. The bridegroom is employed at Sontag's.

FOR SOUTHERN GUEST
Because her friend, Mrs. W. C. Spears, of Indianapolis, Miss., is in California for the winter, Mrs. J. C. Sexton entertained recently at her home, 1407 Spurgeon street, where she was hostess to a group of women from Spurgeon Memorial church.

Her living room was decorated with chrysanthemums in tones of bronze, and she served a salad course on trays at the beginning of the afternoon, after which her guests embroidered and sewed.

The guests included the Mesdames Blanche Palmer, Kenneth Morrison, Ernest Layton, Robert D. Crowl, W. A. Obar, Thomas J. Hunter, James Nuckolls, Harry Gardner, E. A. Schwarm, Charles Hinton, Jack Hubbard, Oliver Harnois and Miss Heister Covington, besides the honoree and the hostess.

COMMITTEE MEETING
Interpretation of the Girl Reserve program to the community provided the discussion theme for members of Girl Reserve general committee yesterday afternoon when they met in the home of chairwoman, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, 2424 Riverside Drive.

Tentative plans were made for a tea which the group will give for mothers of Girl Reserves sometime in the near future. Miss Mary Porter, secretary, gave her report of organization activity. Miss Nora Reid told of a recent meeting of the coordinating council.

Present were Mesdames K. H. Sutherland, Clyde Downing, Glenn Tidball, Quentin Matzen, Arnold

GULICK HOME IS SCENE OF CLASS PARLEY

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Westminster class members of the First Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gulick on South Batavia street, honoring guests and presenting each guest with a corsage of chrysanthemums and a spray of carnations. Receiving at the door were Mrs. M. L. Pearson, Mrs. W. C. Ahlmann, Mrs. H. L. Haynes, Mrs. Ruby Taylor, Mrs. James Westfall and Mrs. F. M. Gulick.

General chairman for the evening was Mrs. Ruby Taylor. Mrs. M. L. Pearson, president of the class, extended greetings to all guests present and introduced the class officers.

Mrs. Lucille Sutherland offered two vocal solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Oakley. Mrs. Le Roy Bell and Mrs. Margaret Oakley gave a piano duet, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Ethel Niquette gave an inspirational talk founded on a Bible incident of the Old Testament. She also gave a brief resume of the class history, complimenting members on their active work. Mrs. F. M. Gulick spoke on sermons which she had attended and offered a message to the class entitled "The Effect of Present Day Civilization on Religion," stressing the greatness of the situation at the present time.

A one-act play entitled "In a French Hat Shop" was enacted by Mesdames Clyde A. Watson, E. H. Smith, and John Hirst. Concluding the program, Mrs. Jerome Westfall, Mrs. B. D. Holmes, and Mrs. Owen Smith served refreshments to approximately one hundred and three members and guests. Mrs. Robert Burns McAulay and Mrs. M. L. Pearson poured coffee and tea.

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Cards furnished the diversion for members and guests of the Helpmet club of the Immanuel Lutheran church yesterday afternoon when 22 were present. Bridge, bunks and 500 were played. Prizes at bridge went to Mrs. Martin Danner first, and Miss Clara Westerman, low, at 500 to Mrs. Dan Gelderman, high, and to Mrs. Minnie Struck, low, and at bunks to Mrs. August Leichner, high, and to Mrs. Carl Feldner, low.

Those in charge of the refreshment course were Mrs. Louis Koth and Mrs. Andrew Meyer, the entertainment, Mrs. Pearl Javeau and Mrs. Neal Halpin. Yellow button chrysanthemums were used in decorating. Mrs. Larry Isaacs presided.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held December 12 in the social hall of the church.

SPARKS SET FIRE TO RABBIT HUTCH

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Sparks from a trash fire at the home of Ole Brink, 513 North Olive street, fell on a rabbit hutch where flames broke out at 6:37 Wednesday night. A high wind was blowing at the time. Ed Higgins and William Vickors of the fire department responded to an alarm and the fire was out in less than 15 minutes.

A still alarm called out the department at noon when a water heater in the home of Mrs. Edna Rogers, 305 West Palm avenue had been left burning causing steam to pour out of the water hydrant outside the house.

Mrs. Hannon was a native of Ontario, Canada.

ORANGE ROTARY HEARS ADDRESS BY L. A. EDITOR

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Ed Ainsworth, state editor of a Los Angeles newspaper, gave members of the Orange Rotary club views of the news from a newspaperman's standpoint at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club yesterday, telling of a staff of 60 correspondents whose versions of news from major disasters to the ever recurring chronicles of golden weddings comes to his desk daily.

In classifying news of various kinds, Ainsworth dwelt on manufactured news created by press agents. Fruits and vegetables of all sorts have become the nucleus of fiestas of all sorts which have had the advantage of calling the attention of the nation and in the case of the Los Angeles county fair, that of the world to Southern California, he said.

It is the complex job of the man on the desk to weigh the value of news pouring in a steady stream into the office and to select that of vital interest. Ainsworth who also writes a column on the page he edits, related a number of amusing incidents in connection with features he incorporated in the column.

J. T. McInnis was program chairman and H. D. Nichols presided. Merle May Welmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Welmer, played two piano solos in opening the program.

LIBRARIAN IN P.-T.A. ADDRESS

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, city librarian spoke on "Books for Children" at a meeting of the West Orange P.-T. A. held Wednesday at the school.

Mrs. Faulkner went back to the beginning of books for the children and traced the changes which have taken place since that time several hundred years ago to the present time when thought and care enter in preparation of many beautiful volumes for children and young people.

The speaker briefly reviewed a few of the books for children which are recent additions to the shelves of the young people's library which will be placed in circulation Monday. Included in those mentioned by the librarian were "The Tree House," "Story of Time," and "Spanish Ingot."

A program was presented by first grade pupils under the direction of Miss Louise Carhart and the school principal Mrs. Leta Brandon. Fifth grade mothers who hostesses with Mrs. D. E. Collins as chairman of the group. Year books made by Mrs. Harold Johnson, the president of the association, Mrs. August Pestoles and Mrs. Ronald Reed were distributed. Tea and sandwiches were served. Mrs. H. E. Gilson was program chairman.

ORANGE 20-30 TO NAME HEADS

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Members of the 20-30 club had as their principal speaker Wednesday evening at the Sunshine Broller, the district governor of the 20-30 clubs, Donald Strahl of Whittier.

Announcement was made by presiding officer, Donald Gulledge, that Dec. 2 would be election night, and nominations were made for officers for the next six months. They were as follows:

A. C. Myracle for president, T. V. Towns for president, C. B. Richardson, Ernest Hagen and Martin Newig for vice president, Jack Sanford, Ralph Shannon and Vernon Mansur for sergeant-at-arms, Pierce Green, Anselmo W. Ames, Dr. W. C. Leichtfuss, Walter Wacker, Vincent Paine, C. B. Richardson, Clifford Butler and Donald Parsons for board of directors, four to be elected from those nominated. Nominations will be re-opened at the meeting next Wednesday, Nov. 25.

Program Chairman Walter Wacker introduced two young women, the Misses Lois and Ruth Cowdry of Santa Ana, who entertained with readings and dances. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Christine Lambert.

"Bus" Ward was named program chairman for next week's meeting.

ORANGE MISSIONARY SOCIETY ADDRESSED BY DR. J. W. MCKEAN

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Gathering in the adult auditorium of the church parlors yesterday afternoon to hold their regular meeting, 60 members of the Presbyterian Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church heard Dr. James W. McKean of Claremont, a retired medical missionary, formerly of Siam, speak on his past work and the work now being carried on in that country.

Mrs. Earl Campbell, vice president of the organization, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. B. Harper. Program chairman, Mrs. Anna Dilley, presented Thomas Flippin, who offered two selections on the cornet. Mrs. Ethel Niquette led the devotionals and led the thank offering for the day, which was given in an especial thanksgiving.

In introducing the speaker, Dr. McKean, Mrs. Dilley told of the 41 years of service which the doctor has devoted to the leper colony in Siam. Dr. McKean spoke of the size of the country, giving a generalized description and pictorialization in words of the work which he carried on in Chingmai, Siam. The founding of the leper colony in that vicinity, Dr. McKean said, was due to a strange coincidence which happened many years ago. It seemed that the doctor was a close friend of one of the kings of Siam and this king owned a white elephant which he presented to his son as a gift. The elephant was placed on a nearby island where it eventually died. At that time, the son who was then the young king, gave this island to Dr. McKean as a site to make a home for lepers.

At the present time, the speaker said, the missionary work and treatment of leprosy is being carried on by his son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. Hugh McKean, who are superintendents of this asylum for lepers.

Concluding the meeting, Mrs. Campbell announced that the next meeting would be a Christmas one and all are especially urged to come.

CHURCH CLASS HOLD MEET

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—The Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church met yesterday for an all day sewing meeting and covered dish dinner at noon. Bronze and wine chrysanthemums were used in decorating the tables and hostesses were Mrs. William Holler, Mrs. Bertha Neale, Mrs. L. E. Ralls, Mrs. Arthur Farwell and Mrs. B. M. Huff. A short business meeting was held. Noodles cooked by a special recipe originated by Mrs. Shull were served as the principal course.

CLUB SECTION HOLDS MEETING

ORANGE, Nov. 20.—Junior Matrons of the Orange Woman's club met yesterday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the clubhouse for their regular business meeting and social afternoon. The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in decorations in the clubhouse with autumn fruits and fall leaves on the mantel of the fireplace, and with chrysanthemums placed in the lobby of the hall. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Paul Rumph, Robert Swank and Thomas Bratty.

Mrs. Henry Walsworth presided at a short business meeting.

Afternoon hours were spent playing Contract Bridge, in which first prize, a candy dish of pottery, was awarded to Miss Marguerite Loesch.

Guests of yesterday's meeting were Mrs. Glann Feldner and Mrs. Merrill Bauer of Santa Ana. Junior Matrons present were Mesdames Henry Walsworth, Norol Evans, James Goode, George Everett Peterson, Paul Nelson, Fred Hewley, Henry Stephens, James Donegan, Louis Flachen, Alex Chastain, Gerald Schryock, Hollis Showalter, Donald Marsh, Christine Lambert, Paul Rumph, Robert Swank, Thomas Bratty and Miss Marguerite Loesch.

MRS. CURTIS THINKS: You can't be a queen in your own home without good coffee, because all men like good coffee. As far as I'm concerned, Hills Bros. has always been King of Coffees in my home. And for that matter, in Mother's and Grandmother's, too . . .

Times may change . . . but fifty-eight years of unvarying quality leadership is your assurance of this: Every steaming cup of Hills Bros. Coffee you sip will give the same enjoyment and delight you found in your very first cup of this coffee. Yesterday, today, tomorrow—the first cup or the hundredth is equally good.

GOOD COFFEE DESERVES CARE IN BREWING
The Correct Grind of Hills Bros. Coffee is a standard set by a knowledge of coffee acquired through more than half a century of roasting and packing coffee. The Correct Grind is as fine as coffee should be ground. Finer grinding sacrifices flavor and aroma, as well as keeping qualities after the can is opened. Hills Bros. Coffee should not be reground. The Correct Grind is guaranteed to produce the finest-tasting beverage in any type of coffee-maker. Directions for making coffee by the method you use will be sent on request.

BRITAIN BUILDS NAVY DEFENSE FOR AIR RAIDS

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Defense officials today reviewed with satisfaction firing reports of anti-aircraft ship batteries against pill-boxes radio controlled airplanes.

Fully aware of Britain's vulnerability from aerial attack, the nation's defense program, aims to assure maximum protection from sky raids. Simultaneously a powerful bombing force is being developed to retaliate fully should any Continental power wage a war of aggression on Britain.

Geographically it is possible to invade Britain only from the sea or air. For this reason the navy and air force are being expanded rapidly and closely co-ordinated. To support these two main military arms an entirely mechanized army, featuring tanks, chemical units and rapid-fire mounted artillery, is being created.

Army Secondary Arm
The army in case of attempt invasion would form a second line of defense at ports and against air raids.

British army officials want entire force and equipment move at speeds approaching 5 miles an hour. Such speeds would afford maximum concentration of danger points due to the smallness of the British Isles. Roads abound in all parts of the country.

Recent naval exercises revealed that increased attention is being paid to anti-aircraft firing. The radio controlled pill-boxes have been sent aloft for three hours at a time flying between 55 and 100 miles an hour at heights up to 10,000 feet.

Use De Havilland Planes
British authorities believe no other country has developed pilotless planes to the same level of efficiency as their own. Planes used are light de Havilland "Queen Bees". They are powered by a four-cylinder air-cooled engine of 130 horsepower. Made of wood, the Queen Bee will float if brought down on the water by gunfire.

The planes have two cockpits, one of which is open and can be fitted rapidly with flying controls for use by a human pilot. In the other, closed, cockpit is the secret mechanism which guides the machine on its course and controls the engine throttle in obedience to radio signals sent from ship or a ground battery.

Control Area 10 Miles
Radius of controlled pilotless flight is about 10 miles from the operating center.

The old aircraft carrier Argus is undergoing alterations to convert her into a mother ship for the robot planes which are launched by catapult.

The Argus will carry 8 to 12 of the pilotless planes. Special gear to salvage planes and radio control apparatus to guide them also will be carried.

WIVES TO BOSS ERRING MATES

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Irresponsible husbands are going to have their tobacco and caffeine doled out to them by responsible wives under new rules of Judge John F. Geckler of Marion county juvenile court.

In every future case, husbands who are found guilty of taking their wages "for a little spree" are going to be sentenced to take their pay checks home to their wives, Judge Geckler ruled.

Many Fathers on Relief
The judge found that a large per cent of the child neglect cases brought into his court involved fathers who work on government relief projects.

"Some of this wholesale wasting of government work checks by husbands and fathers whose children are left in want is going to be stopped if this court has to resort to drastic measures to do it," he said.

Another serious problem threatening the welfare of children in Judge Geckler arranged to have involved in juvenile court cases was found to be "the eternal triangle."

Warns of Jail
die that problem with the announcement.

"If there is evidence that a husband or wife is having an affair and the welfare of their children is at stake, I'll give one warning."

and then send the offender to jail," Judge Geckler said he found "poverty and heredity" behind most juvenile cases.

"Inadequate homes due to poverty force the children to the streets and elsewhere for their recreation and they eventually end up in court here," he said.

"Also, juvenile delinquency is found among children whose parents lack the proper mental training."

SPINACH GETS ANOTHER SLAP FROM SCIENCE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Children of the nation who have listened to the old parental admonition "eat your spinach if you want to be president," have found a champion in two Yale scientists.

After two years of research, it has been announced that the virtues of the green pot-herb have been greatly exaggerated and that most of its body-building value is lost in the slow process of digestion.

This was the discovery of Dr. George T. Cowgill, associate professor of physiological chemistry, and Dr. Mak K. Horwitz, a research fellow in physiological sciences, and Dartmouth graduate.

The late Dr. Lafayette B. Mendel, pioneer nutritionists, first instituted a study of spinach. Drs. Horwitz and Cowgill extended the research.

Food Content Dissipated
They found the vegetable not easily digestible. As result, less than half of its iron content and less than one-third its calcium content, were absorbed by the body during the process of osmosis. Consequently, most of the body-building value was lost.

They concluded that to obtain benefit, a child would have to eat about three times the normal portion—a difficult accomplishment when the normal portion, in most cases, is consumed under duress.

Laboratory tests with digestive enzymes led to the astonishing discovery that only 30 per cent of the calcium, and 40 per cent of the iron in spinach, were dissolved in chemical process. Only a small portion of the carbohydrate material in the vegetable proved to be of the type the human body could utilize.

Test Method Devised
A method whereby the actual amount of nourishing substances to be found in other types of foods could be determined, was advised by the physiologists, based upon the ratio of the nourishment available for digestion to the total amount of these substances in the food.

Eventually all other vegetables will be analyzed. The enzymes used in the tests were litase, to dissolve the fats; trypsin and erepsin, to dissolve the protein, and amylase, the carbohydrates.

Dr. Horwitz was asked if he thought the truth about spinach would lessen its consumption.

"I doubt it very much," he replied. "I still eat spinach, although I am rather tired of looking at it after these two years in which I have worked with it. But, like all vegetables, it is good ruffage."

CYCLISTS WORRY TOWN
OBERLIN, O. (UP)—Bicycle riding, for decades a hobby for which Oberlin college students have been widely publicized, has increased recently to such extent that one civic group is suggesting licensing of all cyclists. The group believes this would make possible enforcement of a regulation requiring lights on cycles at night.

About 265 checks are turned out every minute to pay those working for the U. S. government.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Common constipation is usually due to meals low in "bulk." Pills and drugs give only temporary relief. The sensible thing to do is to put "bulk" back into your meals.

Millions of people get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Its "bulk" is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Some years ago, an investigation was made among thousands of ALL-BRAN users. 98 per cent found it satisfactory. Only 2 per cent had the type of constipation that would not respond to ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardosa Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for various garden crops.

"This rule in gardening never forget. To sow dry, and set wet." I pass this comment on to you in the hope of adding to your knowledge of its insistent rhythm. As to the gardening instructions contained therein, they are fundamental and should be remembered by all gardeners, with or without a rhyme.

1. To sow dry. Ground for seed sowing should first be wet thoroughly. Then allowed to drain to the point where it will pulverize easily, and the surface soil should be mellow and smooth. When sowing seeds in outdoor beds the ground should be spaded well. Seeds sown out-of-doors may be covered a little deeper than when planted in flats (in the latter case the covering should be the thickness of the seed). A light spreading of moist peat or fine loam over the surface will help to keep the surface damp. Seeds sown out-of-doors may be covered a little deeper than when planted in flats (in the latter case the covering should be the thickness of the seed). A light spreading of moist peat or fine loam over the surface will help to keep the surface damp.

2. And set wet. I remember, long years ago, starting for the library on a rainy spring afternoon, armored in a blue cape "mackintosh," with rubbers and umbrellas. Passing the village "hot houses" I found the florist unloading the damp ground setting pansy plants. At my expression of sympathy at his having to work out in the rain, he led me to his head from the pansy bed long enough to give a look of mingled content and commiseration—where they give stability instead of making the arrangement appear top-heavy as they might, if used on long stems. The long, angular branches of the bitter-sweet berries emphasize the lines of the vase, the silvery dollars of lamaris give a frosted, glistening, and the miniature cat tails add a rich note of brown, which is just the touch needed with the bright mass of orange and white.

There is a pleasing harmony between the lines of the arrangement and the simple and graceful curves of the white vase. Bright orange pods of the Chinese lanterns are placed low in the center of the arrangement. Lacking them, local gardeners may like to follow the pleasing line of the blue hydrangea, or seed vases which will work up, with equally attractive result.

Little plants freshly set need protection from sun, and this is often accomplished by newly sown seeds also. And both seeds and young plants usually need protection from winds in our gardens. Many makeshift shelters are used; automatic such as hedges, or fruit come in, being one of my favorites. But a much better way is a frame of straw, with a sheet of plastic or glass over it. This admits plenty of light without direct sun, and gives ample ventilation. It tends to hold the moisture, producing a sort of greenhouse atmosphere. The carpenter work is not beyond the powers of even the most truly feminine of gardeners and a few such frames, of assorted sizes, would be of immense convenience in any garden.

With an eye out for fall color, the effect is of a perfect cloud of smoke. And this is enhanced if somewhere around the neighborhood there is a bonfire of fallen autumn leaves with pungent color. This smoke tree comes from China, but we have a species native to our southern states as far west as Texas! It is a large tree and the leaves are short and rather inconspicuous. It, however, has very brilliant colors in its fall foliage, while the autumnal tints in the Chinese species are less colorful.

If you look for this shrub in the catalogues, and some of our at least a foot deep and rotted nurseryman carry it, you will find it under "Rhus cotinus." Rhus is the sumac, and botanists now place cotinus in a genus by itself, just the two species we have mentioned, though there are several varieties of the European species.

And by the way, this shrub will grow in sun and in rather dry and rocky ground. In that at least, it is like the sumac, whose richly colored leaves, I remember spread in splendor over dry, gravelly banks in New England autumn.

The illustration shows a charming arrangement of dried flowers, which is not only appropriate to the Thanksgiving season but will remain a thing of beauty and joy, if not forever, for a long, long time.

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 20—Misses from the north attending the wedding of Miss Leva Holt and Harold Holdsworth at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon were Mrs. J. R. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Houser of Glendora, and Mrs. C. M. Triplett and Mrs. J. L. Ross and son, Dr. Leola Ross, of San Jose. Mrs. and Mrs. Guy Hibbits, of Lamport, are spending several days at the home of the farmer's sister, Mrs. J. O. Arley and family. Mrs. Ray Henderson and baby daughter, Donna Laurens, were brought home last week from St. Joseph's hospital. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

Nearly $2,000,000 is spent daily by the U. S. army and navy.

GRIDIRON HEROES

WHEN you speak of passing, you immediately think of Michigan. When you think of Michigan, Benny Friedman pops into mind. There was a passer—a fellow with probably the softest delivery in football, whose eagle eye could spot Benny Osterbaan, Wolverine end, anywhere.

Benny was the pass in Michigan's "punt, pass, and prayer" system. He was "the only quarterback I ever had who went through a whole season without making a mistake," Fielding H. Yost, grand old man of Michigan's football, said of him.

Benny was a brainy field general who knew how to handle men. He probably was the only signal caller of his time who adopted the code never to carry the ball himself when his team was inside the enemy's 20-yard line. Friedman's theory was that nothing would work for disharmony in the back-field more than one man monopolizing scoring honors.

Tea Series

Japanese lanterns and pink paper cherry blossoms were decorations for the eighth grade Japanese tea held in Mrs. Ethel Sinker's domestic science room at Lathrop Tuesday afternoon. Five Japanese girls in their native costumes, served tea, rice cakes, cookies and candied orange peel to the guests of the eighth graders. Girls who served were Sakae Masuda, Midori Masuda, Mary Doi, Rakumi Sasaki and Mitsuko Ochi. On the reception committee for the tea and in the library were Margaret Hawk, Betty Mae Nelson, Jeannette Pagenkopp, Nancy Steinberger, Ginnia Jean Titchener, Wesley Masters, Dick Vance and Barbara Thwaite.

At an English tea, ninth graders entertained their parents and friends. On the reception committee were Ruth Ames, Leila Slaback, Jane Dale, Ruth Wallace and Jack Forcey, of the Junior Literary club. Sandwiches, cookies, candied orange peel and tea were served by Faylia White, Corrine Wendorf, Emmy Lou Brooks, Mary Pappas, Betty Lu Perryman and Rosemary Pierce.

Wednesday afternoon seventh graders were hosts at a Russian tea. Receiving at the tea were Homer Chaney Jr., Paul Witmer, Charles Chambers, Ruth Zoln, Betty Shidder and Mary Zoln. Girls who served were Molly Maloney, Ruth Mary Murphy, Betty Mae, Martin, Lorraine Adams and Ruanne Neighbour.

Gift Making

Art classes at Lathrop have started their Christmas gift making. Cork mats, wood carvings, cloth paintings and cards in spotter prints are some of the interesting gifts being made in Mrs. Crumrine's seventh and eighth sections.

Mrs. Grace Wolff's home room is interested in planting winter flower beds. Planting of snapdragons, calendulas, Iceland poppies and stocks has been decided on as a project.

Branch Library

In the Lathrop branch library this week there may be found a merry-go-round loaded with new books in brightly colored jackets, a sage (made by David Craighead) on which are displayed miniature dolls representing many well-known book characters; a display of interesting old books and manuscripts, gathered together and exhibited by the English department; a display of science books and a microscope with a living organism on view; a set of maps with small paper books pinned to various parts of the country about which they were written (furnished by the social studies department). A book stall covered with interesting book titles, displays, the two books purchased by the Junior Literary club for the library "Around the World in Eleven Years" and "Spide, the Cowpuncher's dog" as well as a ballot box where Lathrop students may vote for their favorite books. Members of the Junior Literary club have been on duty all week, assisting the librarians, Miss Leona Calkins and Mrs. Juanita Lake.

Tuesday morning, members of Mrs. Green's second grade class from Spurgeon school presented a book play in which all characters were dressed to represent various books, to Miss Boyd's and Miss Minter's Lowell school classes, and to Miss Blythe's seventh grade class.

Clothing Department

Lathrop clothing department is proud of a new hand loom which is furnishing a great deal of pleasure and instruction to the girls. At present, members of the class are making a luncheon set in white, brown and yellow plaid.

Miss Foster's vocational class has finished new curtains and towels for the foods laboratory, while ninth grade sewing classes under the same instructor have started planning their big project for the year, the making of dresses.

Excursion

Business training classes were taken by their teachers, Miss Carl and Mrs. Webber Wednesday to observe at first hand work being done by downtown business offices.

The telephone company, the post office department and the Santa Ana Register, visited by the were courteous in giving information pertaining to the various lines of work.

Program

The wonders of electricity provided the theme for a recent student assembly at which Lewis Hoskins, electrical engineer and his assistant, Mr. Joyce, discussed "The Electric Eye."

OCEANVIEW

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 20.—A family reunion of the Worthy family was a recent event at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Worthy, of Huntington Beach boulevard, when they entertained at a Spanish dinner. Included in the family party were the father, J. T. Worthy, of Midway City; brother, the Rev. Arthur Worthy, wife and family of Van Nuys; brother, L. E. Worthy, wife and son of Huntington Beach; sister, Miss Vanora Worthy, of Compton, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Worthy and two sons.

DON'T FORGET KING WUR GOT A DINO SAUR TOO!

DONS OOPS ON FAVORITES TO BEAT CHAFFEY

football played in the State. The Dons really put on a show for the "four bits" admission. Their razzle dazle stuff has captivated hundreds of new fans each week.

Just a few of the outstanding members of the Don club:

Outstanding Stars

Johnny Lehnhardt is the finest all-around backfield performer in the whole Eastern Conference. He is in his second year as Don star, he formerly played for John Ward's Garden Grove high team.

Bill Greshner quarterback rank ranks as the favorite among Don followers, and is noted for his sensational runs and sticky fingers in catching passes. Bill is a graduate of Newport high and is headed for Stanford next season.

Fred Erdhaus a big 186 pounder plays a sweet game of end for the Dons. He is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and is also headed for Stanford University next year.

Co-Captain Al Tienor is the steadiest player on the Don team and handles his end assignments to the letter. Coach Bill Cook rates him as the team's most valuable player. Stanford is his choice next year.

Rash Key

Howard Rash, 155 pound running guard, has been the key man in the Don running attack all season. He is a graduate of Santa Ana high and in his second year of football for Cook.

Carl Benson is one of the real reasons the Dons have gone far as they have this year. He is a power of strength in the middle of the Don line. A graduate of Tustin high school Benson is in his second year of football.

Bob Holmes, Ray Devine, "Rusty" Roquet in the line and Ed Stanley, Joe Herbert, Max, Billy, and a few more of the Don stars.

The fans can expect to see a lot of such boys as Blas Mercurio, Ray Slides and Fred Lentz, in the backfield. Linemen who will see plenty of action are Roy Waeer, 216 pound "butter ball," Dick Connell, Fred Pinkston, Dick Tauber, Erwin Yonel, Bill Sem-nacher, Les Minder, Dan Boyd, Jim Burkhardt, Bob Paul, and Harry Stanley.

The Heisermens are big and plenty tough and will probably out weigh the Dons about five pounds per man. Elmer Cross, halfback in the outstanding ball pucker on the Chaffey team and his substitute Ovit is rated by many of those who have seen the Panthers play as even better.

Chaffey without question will have the strongest line in the Eastern conference with the possible exception of the Long Beach ward wall. Several of the Chaffey linemen are well over the 220 pound mark and threaten to give Don backs plenty of trouble.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Wheat prices held around previous closing levels on a Chicago board of trade today while corn values ran up for net gains of a cent a bushel. Trading in both grains was light and was limited to local professionals.

Liquidation of December wheat contracts that depressed the market over today but buying continued light. Prices held with practically no net change. Support was a little better in the deferred months and these two deliveries gained fractions for the day.

Liverpool closed easier in response to a decline in North American markets yesterday and Winnipeg held to a narrow range around previous closing levels.

Continued small offerings to arrive coupled with a relatively firm tone in the cash market put a check to early liquidation of corn futures and prices of all deliveries declined in North American markets.

FAKE CHARITIES

The holiday season is a time when human nature shows at both its best and worst. It is then that good will is in the air, and men are quick to respond to appeals for charity. It is then, too, that other men are equally quick to turn such appeals to their own advantage.

Organized, fake charity solicitation is especially active around Thanksgiving and Christmas, reveals William Hodson, Commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare in New York City. Fraudulent organizations, operating principally through telephoning salesmen, at such times appeal for special funds to provide baskets and holiday gifts.

To be sure that your money goes to help some unfortunate, Mr. Hodson advises, investigate before you donate. And don't be influenced by a religious name or title.

NEW NEUTRALITY LAW

It would be well to remember that among the important tasks facing the new Congress is the framing of a waterproof neutrality law.

The existing law is a great deal better than no law at all, but it is admittedly imperfect. It has served as a stop-gap measure, but it needs to be replaced as speedily as possible by a well-reasoned, statesman-like measure which will insure America, as far as any law can insure it, against involvement in foreign wars.

Such law cannot be put together overnight. The job demands long study and the best thought that can possibly be given to it.

Since the European horizon seems to be growing steadily darker, and since even the imperfect law we now have expires in May, the sooner the responsible leaders at Washington begin preparing a new law, the more secure we can feel.

PAYING DEARLY FOR WISHES

The Pacific Coast is paying, and will continue to pay, very dearly for our wish economics; namely, that wages that are paid on other than a basis of production invariably reduce all wages and lower the standard of living of all people over a long period of years.

What we are now paying the price to learn in the maritime strike is, that if the employer has no right to employ those he believes will perform the most for the money and if the workers have the right to discharge any man, the workers believe are giving too big a service for the money paid, then the employers are helpless and cannot render a service to their customers at a given price determined in advance.

We will also learn that an organization will have mighty few customers if it cannot deliver the services on the same basis that customers are paid for the services they produce unless it is a monopoly.

It is easy to see that an employer is absolutely helpless when he has no authority to determine who he shall hire in his attempt to render a service.

The people of the Pacific Coast are losing millions of dollars and the officials that should give protection to life and property for those who want to work are waiting for the public to be hurt so badly by this strike that the public opinion will insist on the public officials protecting the lives and the right of men to work.

The question is how hard the public has to be hit before they realize that if they do not stand up for their rights and insist upon the government officials performing their duty by protecting ALL workers they will continue to suffer to the detriment not only of themselves but of the workers who are on strike.

A FEW QUESTIONS APROPOS OF YOUR EDITORIAL "HOW TO SELECT EMPLOYEES"

I do not intend to enter into any controversy whatsoever on economic subjects in the newspaper but since so much has been written in regard to wages, would it not be well to inquire somewhat into the nature, source and amount of profits. Therefore I have propounded a few questions which may provoke some thought.

1. Should the laborer receive all that part of the value of the thing produced which is due to his labor?

Given a great quantity of surplus labor and absolutely free competition amongst laborers will not wages tend to be less than the laborer actually produces?

If the laborer gets less than he produces who gets the surplus?

If anyone gets the surplus by what right does he retain it? Has not the laborer a moral right to combine and force, if necessary, wages to a point equal to the value they produce?

Do not employers combine for the purpose of increasing profits? Is not one source of these profits the difference between what a laborer produces and what he receives?

Is there now free competition amongst employers? Should employers get only what value they produce in absolutely free competition with each other?

How do you determine how much each of the factors of production contributes to the value of the finished product?

W. MAXWELL BURKE

Editor Register:
In connection with your editorial on wages may I suggest an element which should enter into the computation of wages that you seem to have overlooked?

This element is the ability of the employer to pay. If he chooses his employees purely on a competitive basis, in some instances he may be required to pay more than his business would justify. Of, on the other hand, he may be able to procure employees who would work for less than the employer should pay.

The recently completed report of the Brookings Institution, with which doubtless you are familiar, stresses the fact that industry must not only pay high wages but also sell for low prices if the need of our day is to be met.

Up to the present time exploitation has been the accepted method of dealing with first class slaves, then serfs, and finally employees. This seemed to work so long as there were enough industrial products to absorb industrial production; but it worked great injustice by conferring on some wealth out of proportion to their contribution to society and on some dire poverty.

The findings of the Brookings Group, hailed as one of the greatest economic contributions of the century, show that if our industrial system is to survive, buying power must be spread throughout the masses. This can be done, they say, by raising wages or lowering prices. The latter they believe to be the preferable method, inasmuch as it increases the buying power of those who live on their savings or their insurance, of the professional workers, and of agricultural and domestic and service workers not affected by increase of industrial prices.

Nevertheless, if this finding is to be put into effect, it will be necessary for the employer to pay a wage and sell at a price that will supply him with a reasonable interest on his investment and his risk and a fair stipend for his personal services. If he takes more he is exploiting his workers and his customers. If he takes less he is doing himself an injustice. Wages, therefore, cannot be entirely on a competitive basis, although it goes without saying that employees must produce in proportion to their wages if their employer is to keep his business on a stable basis.

As for the inefficient employee who is not able to produce enough to pay him an adequate wage, I believe he should have an opportunity to work for whatever he is able to earn. The remainder necessary for an adequate living should be made up by the community if he does not have a family capable of caring for him.

The minimum wage, so much discussed at the present time, would result either in prohibiting employment of the inefficient worker or in forcing the efficient workers to share their just earnings with the incompetent.

It does not favor a minimum wage, therefore. And I especially deplore the tendency to set a minimum for women workers. Restrictions on women's employment, which doubtless are meant in all kindness, actually work a hardship on women by handicapping them in competition with men. Perhaps this is the object some proponents of industrial legislation for women have in view. I do not believe it to be to the interest either of women or of society as a whole.

Since I do not know what wages the Register pays, these remarks are purely impersonal, and are offered in response to the editor's invitation.

Very truly yours,

DIFFICULTY IN SAVING

Few people realize the destructibility of wealth and how difficult it is to conserve wealth. In fact, about the only way in which wealth can be conserved is to destroy it; that is, to use it to create new wealth by destruction of the old.

It is impossible, so far as we can think, to save anything without using it. Gold is probably as indestructible as any element. Yet, to save gold, one must protect it from theft and loss, which gradually reduces its total and, over a long period, it becomes practically eaten up by the cost of protecting it. Perishable vegetables, of course, can only be saved by planting them and having them reproduce. Even durable seeds, like wheat, deteriorate and are likely to be destroyed by fire.

The point we are trying to bring up is that capital, in order to be real wealth, must be used and reproduced—in order to be capital, it must grow, because what does not increase, decreases.

As civilization becomes more dependable, it is usually customary to permit people, who are not in a position to use the wealth to reproduce itself, to loan this wealth to others who will use it to make it increase. This greatly facilitates the management of wealth and makes it possible to be used to the best advantage. This loaning of wealth is greatly facilitated by having a standard measure of wealth, such as money with actual value back of it. When we cease to have actual value back of our money, this loaning of wealth to others in order to make it grow becomes very complicated and dangerous. As a result, the savings and growth of wealth are greatly retarded, to the great disadvantage of society as a whole.

FOREIGNERS BUYING UNITED STATES SECURITIES

The United States seems to be concerned about foreigners buying securities in the United States. We have not personally been able to see how bringing wealth to our country, as the foreigners do when they buy our securities, should be displeasing to us.

Of course, if we have an artificial money market and the foreigners come in and know there will be inflation and then sell their securities later on when the prices are high and remove their wealth from the country, this would be taking the wealth out of our country instead of bringing it into the country.

It is probably this that the federal government is concerned about. If our money were based on actual value, there would not be such rapid change in price levels and we would not need to worry about this condition as a natural result of artificially regulated prices.

AGE OF MIRACLES

Citizens of past generations had it over us in one respect. New inventions brought them thrills that were thrills.

Imagine their intense amazement and awe, for instance, when they first heard the human voice emanate from a wire. Or when they first saw an airplane rise from the ground and soar in the air.

A television demonstration has just been held in a New York City building. To the screen before the spectators, images were televised from a nearby skyscraper.

Gazing at pictures on a screen is nothing new for the modern American. And only by deliberately imagining that these pictures were sent through the air could he get a certain thrill—but one not even comparable to that enjoyed by witnesses at the first airplane and telephone demonstrations. New inventions were near-miracles in those days.

zary for the employer to pay a wage and sell at a price that will supply him with a reasonable interest on his investment and his risk and a fair stipend for his personal services. If he takes more he is exploiting his workers and his customers. If he takes less he is doing himself an injustice. Wages, therefore, cannot be entirely on a competitive basis, although it goes without saying that employees must produce in proportion to their wages if their employer is to keep his business on a stable basis.

The Higher Education

Day By Day In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1936)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Rex Tugwell's resignation can easily be misconstrued to mean that he is quitting under fire of criticism, or that President Roosevelt is abandoning Tugwellism and intends to be a more conservative executive hereafter.

What it really means is that men of the Tugwell type are not very fond of administrative routine and that they prefer to be useful in the broad realm of policy on the whole of the administration's operations rather than on some segment or specific project.

Just why a man of Rex Tugwell's temperament and intellectual capacity should ever have wanted to be a bureaucrat, tied down to the detail of government tape and routine, was a mystery from the outset. The so-called "brain trusters" can be more useful to government in the roles of advisers than administrators, anyway.

The trouble about an adviser's accepting an administrative position is that authority, government custom as to precedence and all sorts of traditional barriers hem in the official in question. For instance, it isn't good form for an undersecretary of agriculture to be seeing the president unless the matter is first talked over and arranged with his superior officer, the secretary of agriculture. It is easy to see why a man of Tugwell's range of interests would prefer to be foot-loose, and able to go and come at the White House without the official restraints of Washington custom.

One does not have to accept Rex Tugwell's ideas or to subscribe to his philosophy to say that, of all the men in the New Deal, not excepting President Roosevelt himself, he has a better idea of a coordinated or controlled economy for America than anybody else in Washington. His books written as early as 1933 foreshadowed not only many of the legislative proposals of the first Roosevelt administration, but a spreading of his books and speeches will furnish a clue to the activities of the second Roosevelt administration.

Such a man as Rex Tugwell naturally doesn't get on too well with the others in the administration. Some of the officials are quite humanly envious of his intellectual attainments, and the newspapers have emphasized Tugwell to such an extent that he has no doubt found it embarrassing to be as active an adviser from his post as undersecretary of agriculture as he could be on the outside of the government.

Then there is always the question of income. Dr. Tugwell is not a man of means. Outside the government, he can earn more than in the government, and with the nationwide advertisement that has been given him, he doubtless will be sought as a contributor to magazines and periodicals generally.

Dr. Tugwell has rendered excellent service to Mr. Roosevelt and it is clear from the text of the letters exchanged in connection with the resignation that the president is anxious to convey the impression that his trusted friend and adviser isn't being kicked out of the New Deal, but that the latching is always out. Mr. Roosevelt says specifically: "I want you to know that later on I fully expect to ask you to come back to render additional service."

Sometimes these expressions are merely vehicles of politeness to avoid a contrary impression. It will be recalled that the president said virtually the same thing to General Hugh Johnson when he resigned as head of the NRA. But, in this instance, it does mean that Mr. Roosevelt will continue to seek the advice and aid of Rex Tugwell on some of the broad problems of social legislation and particularly economic planning.

So far as the critics are concerned, they probably will not be deprived of one of their targets of attack. For as long as the Tugwell doctrine and the New Deal philosophy are intertwined, there will be opposition quarters.

Connection with an official position has not been necessary in order for Mr. Roosevelt to get on social planning and the problems of his administration generally. Thus, Raymond Moley continued for a long while after he left the department of state to be an adviser. Likewise, Prof. Felix Frankfurter, of the Harvard law school, has never held any position under the New Deal, but he is regarded as one of the most influential of Mr. Roosevelt's advisers. Rex Tugwell has moved out of a bureaucrat's chair, but his role as adviser to President Roosevelt may be even more influential in the future than heretofore.

Little Benny's Note Book

We was eating supper, being stake under onions, and ma said to pop, Isn't it remarkable, Will-yum, I mean the universal sensation of pleasure when you get something for nothing? I suppose it's just one of the things that make this such a proverbial small world, she said.

Personally I never get anything for nothing but colds in the head and I generally have to pay for them before I'm through, pop said, and ma said, Of course it's only a little bridge pencil with an eraser on the end and a tendency to brake its lead under pressure, but people aren't supposed to question gift horses. The funniest part is, I'd never tried one of those machines before, she said.

Do you mean you got it out of one of those sucker slot machines where you put in 5 cents and work a traveling crane with a lever or something? pop said, and ma said, Yes, wasn't I lucky I was waiting for Sally Jarden in the lobby of the Union Hotel and Sally is always forever and a day late, so just to kill the time I watched the people around this slot machine, and not one of them was catching anything. Several of them almost did, but the watches and fountain pens and things always seemed to slip out again just as they'd almost caught them. So imagine their envy when I pulled up the bridge pencil, ma said.

You say you got it on your very first try? pop said, and ma said, Well, hardly. I changed 25 cent pieces and as luck would have it I caught the pencil with the very last 5 cents, she said.

And you got it for nothing, 3 cheers for the land of the free, pop said, and ma said, But Will-yum, if it hadn't been for that machine I'm sure I'd of spent the time and the money at the hotel soda fountain ruining my digestion and adding to my weight, so I just mentally charged the money off to unaccounted refreshments and the principle was exactly the same, she said.

It's a woman's world, pass the butter, pop said.
Wich she did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE GOVERNMENT AND ENTERPRISE

In the four years ahead we shall face the problem of determining anew the relation of the government to the economic enterprise of the people.

The over-simplifiers will be busy on both sides. The apostles of laissez faire will fight any and every extension of the power of government in the life of the people.

The apostles of statism will uncritically exalt anything and everything the government undertakes to do by way of dominating the nation's enterprise. Mr. Roosevelt's surest bid for immortality will lie in his proceeding with an admixture of courage and caution between the two camps of over-simplifiers.

As I have pointed out again and again in this column, the role of the state has expanded and will continue to expand, regardless of the conservatism or liberalism of the leadership at Washington, for historic necessity forces this expansion.

It is a question of direction and degree and a problem of accompanying every extension of federal authority with an adequate safeguard against a progressive disintegration of democratic self-government.

The landslide of votes on last election day has not, in my judgment, altered the underlying situation one whit. The masses of Americans want their national government to have every needed power that will help to stabilize and stimulate the national enterprise, but they want the strangulating hand of minute overlordship by the state kept from their throats.

It is a problem in political invention, the same in nature and quite as important as the problem in political invention that confronted the framers of the Constitution.

If Mr. Roosevelt, in his impact upon the American mind, will aid to his manifest willingness to thrust the federal government into whatever new territory it needs to go an equally manifest eagerness to strengthen instead of weaken the underlying philosophy of self-government that gives distinction to the American scheme of life, his way will be made immeasurably easier for the doing of the gigantic task that lies ahead.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

DREAMS

Dreams are fine if one can wake from them refreshed and ready to face the realities, without heartache and complainings. A dream can be a powerful force in creating desirable conditions and it can be a powerful deterrent to constructive living. It all depends upon how the dreams are used.

A young mother dreams of an ideal child. He will be handsome as a god, successful beyond any man of his day. His smile will draw all men toward him and he will be a leader beloved and served as no man ever was loved and served beforetime. Well and good.

The baby comes and it is a girl. She is decidedly on the plain side and as the years go by they bring no indication of genius. If the dream force is used to help in the developing of this ordinary child into something near the ideal the dream serves mother and child well. If it brings inferiority and position, disappointment and real sentiment because of the span between dream and actuality it serves them both ill.

Young people dream of the ideal home. Just for two and the babies. In a lovely tree-shaded street in a village of delightful people who will recognize these kindred spirits and welcome them with smiles of joy and with open doors. The children will grow up in this beloved environment. Intelligent, lovable, respected and adored by all.

Things do not work out that way. The trees are lovely and the village is quaint. The people are good people, but set in their ways, and they are not quite the ways of the newcomers. They even have some disagreeable ways and their doors remain tightly shut. The children next door are bad-mannered, those down the street are plain awful. Life is complicated anew and the dream fades.

If the dream holds, if it leads the dreamers to hold to it and strive to make it come to pass, it will act as a lever and help them rise above actuality, help them to create the very things they long to hold their own. Dreams are the first step toward creation.

Good things, pleasant places in life, must be created by those who want to enjoy them. They are not bought with money. They are not brought about by force of any kind. They can neither be bribed nor bidden. Out of the substance of oneself they must be slowly and painfully created.

If you would have a lovely child be a lovely person to start with, and keep on being that sort of person until you have achieved your ends. The child will grow in the element you provide. Out of your self-discipline and your request you create the spiritual beauty that makes the lovely child.

If you would live in a fine community create it out of your own thought and behavior. Give all you have in you to its creation. Don't expect to rent it or buy it. Expect to create it out of the force of your searching soul. The dream is the first step toward creation, and the rest of the way is hard going, hard work, daily effort. But it is worth while. A dream will carry you far if you supply the working power.
